Urge Support In Determination To Have Plants Continue Operation

Following the example of the employees of the Shenango Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company on Monday, the Employees Representatives of the New Castle Works today passed a resolution opposing a strike, and the activities of outside labor organizations.

The two resolutions seem to indicate beyond any peradventure of doubt that the tin workers of New Castle, some 4500 in all, will not engage in any strike or holiday on June 16, regardless of what is done by other cities. The resolution of the New Castle Works follows:

We feel that our recent vote in New Castle Works indicates conclusively that the great majority of the employees are in favor of the representation plan for collective bargaining with our employers.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Roosevelt faced another major labor crisis today as he tackled the task of averting a steel strike.

Up until the past 24 hours, White House officials asserted the strike was not in the president's hands. After a week of such declarations, however, the president suddenly called into conference those administration officials directly concerned with labor troubles.

Confer With President.
Participants were sparse in their comment, but did say this much: "Governmental action in the steel strike was discussed. No decisions were reached. We will meet again on Tuesday."

These words came from Senator Wagner (D) of New York, author of the pending labor disputes board bill in congress. Wagner, with Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, NRA General Counsel Donald R. Richberg, and a representative of Secretary of Labor Perkins, spent nearly an hour with Mr. Roosevelt.

Mass Meeting Is Arranged

Citizens To Meet Wednesday Night In Support Of Tin Workers

SESSION PLANNED IN COUNCIL ROOM

With the action of the tin workers of this city in voting against a strike as a criterion of the feeling of the men, a group of citizens of this city have felt that the public at large has a duty to perform to demonstrate to the tin workers that their action meets the hearty approval of the citizenry. For this reason, a mass meeting of citizens has been called for Wednesday evening, June 13 at eight o'clock in the City Hall.

The meeting is not the thought of any group of factions. It is a sentiment that grows spontaneously in the past few days and rises out of the action of the tin workers themselves. The feeling back of the meeting seems to be that where the management and men of the tin mills here are in accord in the matter of no strike, the citizens owe it to them (Continued On Page Two) strike, it was indicated today

by Recovery Administrator Hugh
S. Johnson, following a confer-

Roosevelt and Recovery Counsel
Donald Richberg.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 12.—
President Roosevelt faced another major labor crisis
today as he tackled the task of averting a steel strike.

Up until the past 24 hours, White House officials asserted the strike was not in the president's hands.
After a week of such declarations,
however, the president suddenly called into conference those administrative officials directly concerned with labor troubles.

Confer With President.

Participants were sparse in their comment, but did say this much:
"Governmental action in the steel strike was discussed. No decisions were reached. We will meet again on Tuesday."

These words came from Senator
Wagner (D) of New York, author of the pending labor disputes board bill in congress. Wagner, with Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, NRA General Counsel, Donald
R. Richberg, and a representative of Secretary of Labor Perkins, spent nearly an hour with Mr. Roosevelt.

Urge Support In Determination To Have Plants Continue Operation

Following the example of the employees of the Shenango Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company on Monday, the employees of the New Castle Works today passed a resolution opposing a strike, and the activities of outside labor organizations.

The two resolutions seem to indicate beyond any peradventure of doubt that the tin workers of New Castle, some 4500 in all, will not engage in any strike or holiday on June 16, regardless of what is done by other cities. The resolution of the New Castle Works follows:

Action Taken
A resolution adopted by the Employees Representatives of the New Castle Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, June 12, 1934.

We, the elected employee representatives of the New Castle Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, wish to go on record along with the employee representatives of Laughlin, National, Canton, Roll and Machine, Vandergrift, Wood, Sabraton, Mercer, Shenango Works and others of our company, and concur in such resolutions regarding the threatening "holiday" in the steel industry.

We feel that our recent vote in New Castle Works indicates conclusively that the great majority of our employees are in favor of the representation plan for collective bargaining with our employers.

We are strongly opposed to the activities of outside labor organizations who alone are threatening the

PA NEW OBSERVES

Twenty-four women representing the senior and junior Business and Professional Women's club of this city are journeying to Eaglesmere, Pa., this week, to attend the annual convention of the state federation. Such a large delegation from such a long distance should be seen as well as heard.

And today Pa New is told that the descendants of old settlers of Moravia and West Pittsburg are going to have another reunion. Last year's was a big success and this will be even a greater reunion the committee says. Thursday, June 21, is the day; the Moravia Presbyterian church, the place.

Concrete has been laid on West Washington street from Beaver street to the bridge and so it shouldn't be long now until this useful little stretch will be open to traffic once more.

The house, a two-story frame building, was burned to the ground, with most of the furniture lost. The house, owned by the Field Club was insured, but the furniture was not. Dr. Bennett Says Board Cannot Provide Funds For Meeting House Rents

Dr. G. S. Bennett, head of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief organization, said this morning, that frequent appeals are being made to the organization for funds with which to pay house rent.

In this connection, he said: "The Lawrence County Emergency Relief Board is not in a position to pay rents. It is useless for people to see me on that proposition. Neither the federal government nor the state board made any provision for paying rents. No one regrets inability to do anything in this matter more than I do, but the board is helpless in this particular matter."

Edenburg Shooting Case Is On Trial

Joe Natale And Dominick Minutello Give Versions Of Edenburg Affair

Joe Natale, an Edenburg youth, charged with aggravated assault and battery with firearms on Dominick Minutello, of the same place, is on trial before Judge James A. Chambers at county court today.

The evidence showed that on November 13, 1933, Minutello was returning from a hunting trip. He was passing up one of Edenburg's streets, and had emerged from behind a building when he was struck by a bullet fired from a 22 rifle in the hands of Natale. He was quite seriously injured and was in the hospital for several months.

Natale claims that the shooting was accidental. He testified that he was out shooting sparrows, and when he had fired the shot, had aimed at a sparrow. Just as he pulled the trigger he claims that Minutello stepped from behind a building which was between him and Natale, and received the shot intended for the bird.

No previous trouble was shown between Natale and Minutello. The main point in the case seems to hinge on the question of how far Minutello was past the house when Natale fired, and whether or not it was possible for Natale to have seen him. Minutello claims that he was further past the corner of the house than is alleged by Natale. The case is still on trial.

Dr. John M. Robb, minister of health of the Ontario provincial government and a member of the cabinet was to call on Dr. A. R. Duff, the country physician of Callander, and drive to the desolate Dionne log cabin where he will view the babies in their glass top incubators.

 The minister of health is the first visitor to be permitted within the portals of the improvised sick room. Besides the doctor and his three nurses, only the 25 year old mother, Mrs. Eliza Dionne, have been allowed in the room.

Besides extra treatments of oxygen-carbon dioxide gas, two drops of Jamaica rum were given to each and later they all seemed to have recovered and cried like their usual bi-hourly meal of warmed human milk.

Round Shows Work Done
 Louis B. Round, director of the RWD in this county, was the second speaker of the evening. His subject was "The CWA, An Achievement in Planning." Mr. Round's address was a splendid one and was warmly received by the delegates. He showed the development of the CWA here and said that it was the finest piece of relief work done by the government. The RWD he characterized as the poorest piece of relief and said that after working the men all winter in zero weather, the government cut them off for the most part when the weather broke.

The results of the CWA work, he said, could not be determined by the present generation. This would have to be done by the coming generations. Following Mr. Round's address, motion pictures of the work done here by the CWA and RWD were shown to the guests. These were in charge of Carl L. Leathers, assistant director of RWD. Interesting were several cutaneous diseases furnished by the numbers furnished by the numbers. Last Message
 "Clyde reported to Newark, N. J., at 5:35 p. m. that he was over Newburgh and 'everything is okay.' Devlin said, 'That was the last time he was heard from'."

"Speaking as a pilot, I believe that Clyde ran into heavy weather and decided to turn northwest, instead of following the usual course of the Hudson to Albany and then overstop. He probably hit the soup over Ulster county and swooped down low to fly under it rather than fly blind."

"He must have thought he had altitude enough to pass over Dumfries safely, for his plane was almost on the very summit."

"No person in that plane ever knew what happened. They must have been killed instantly. It was a merciful way to die."

The Condor, one of the largest commercial planes in the United States, was found by Devlin and sergeants Mangan and Hopkins a short time after it had been located from the air by Red Hallock and Lee Lord, two local fliers.

Livingston Manor, N. Y., June 12. Aviation experts were inclined to scoff today at the suggestion that an explosion of chemicals occurred in the cabin of the ill-fated Newark-to-Chicago air liner before it crashed on "Last Chance" Mountain Saturday night.

Victor J. Bourke, Sullivan county coroner, announced last night that three bodies of plane wreckage were found in a bog in the wreckage of the plane. The bog bore initials indicating it was the property of W. B. Bader, a chemical engineer of Buffalo, one of the seven victims of the crash.

brain trust" of the administration. Thirteen announced definitely they would vote for confirmation and two said they probably would.

Chairman Opposed
 Senator Smith (D) of South Carolina, fiercest committee chairman, is the only Senator who has announced flatly that he will vote to disavow Tugwell, but Senator Hattfield (R) of West Virginia said he "probably would line up that way."

Senator McNary (D) of Oregon, minority leader, and Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma are undecided. Most committee members said Tugwell made a "good showing" under questioning for nearly four and one-half hours before the committee yesterday. They stressed that he had proclaimed himself as opposed to adopting the Russian form of government in this country, and as favorable to the constitution of the United States.

To Vote For Tugwell
 Senators who will vote for Tugwell are Cutting (R) New Mexico; Hatch (D) of New Mexico; Wheeler (D) Montana; McGill (D) Kansas; Bankhead (D) Alabama; Bone (D) Washington; Murphy (D) Iowa; Norris (R) Nebraska; Capper (R) Kansas; Norbeck (R) South Dakota; Caraway (D) Arkansas; Bulow (D) South Dakota; and Pope (D) Idaho.

Probably votes for Tugwell are Senators Frazier (R) of North Dakota, and Shipstead (farmer laborer) of Minnesota.

Despite the certainty of the result, as attested by the poll, Chairman Smith believes the committee will reject Tugwell.

"The hearing yesterday made me more against Dr. Tugwell than I was before," he declared. "His writings are radical and he knows little of practical farming. Why, he said he worked on the farm only during vacations from college."

PRESIDENT FACES TASK OF AVERTING BIG STEEL STRIKE

They will meet again with the president today.

At least one thing appeared certain. Some representative of NRA will go to representatives of the workers the administration's proposal for peace. On that day, representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers locals meet to vote for peace or a strike.

Believe Way Will Be Found.
 Administration officials fear their efforts to avert a strike might be in vain, mainly because a considerable number of the delegates attending the Pittsburgh meeting will carry instructions from their locals to vote for a strike unless the steel employers are forced to abide by the collective bargaining provision of the National Recovery Act by recognizing union delegates.

In spite of all these cloudy skies, there are some who persisted in the belief the president will find a peaceable way out of the controversy for both employers and workers. He did that in the automobile strike when conditions were considered hopeless.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Scorned in their bid for union recognition, the men of the nation's steel mills stood at the cross roads today while officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers hastily arranged for their crucial convention here Thursday.

The "rank and file" committee through its leader, Earl J. Forbeck, offered three ways by which trouble may be averted.

1. An election for employees representatives under government supervision.

2. Passage of the revised Wagner labor bill.

3. Conferences, supervised by President Roosevelt and no one else, between the union's leaders and the American Iron and Steel Institute, representing the employers, to draw up labor legislation which must be passed by congress.

PRESIDENT FACES TASK OF AVERTING BIG STEEL STRIKE

They will meet again with the president today.

At least one thing appeared certain. Some representative of NRA will go to Pittsburgh on Thursday to present to representatives of the workers the administration's proposal for peace. On that day, representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers locals meet to vote for peace or a strike.

Believe War Will Be Fought.

Administration officials fear their efforts to avert a strike might be in vain mainly because a considerable number of the delegates attending the Pittsburgh meeting will carry instructions from their locals to vote for a strike unless the steel employers are forced to abide by the collective bargaining provision of the National Recovery Act by recognizing union delegates.

In spite of all these cloudy skies, there are some who persisted in the belief the president will find a peaceable way out of the controversy for both employers and workers. He did in the automobile strike when conditions were considered hopeless.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Scorned in their bid for union recognition, the men of the nation's steel mills stood at the cross roads today while officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers hastily arranged for their crucial convention here Thursday.

The "rank and file" committee through its leader, Earl J. Forbeck, offered three ways by which trouble may be averted:

1. An election for employees representatives under government supervision.
2. Passage of the revised Wagner labor bill.
3. Conference, supervised by President Roosevelt and no one else, between the union's leaders and the American Iron and Steel Institute, representing the employers, to draw up labor legislation which must be passed by congress.

PRESIDENT FACES TASK OF AVERTING BIG STEEL STRIKE

They will meet again with the president today.

At least one thing appeared certain. Some representative of NRA will go to Pittsburgh on Thursday to present to representatives of the workers the administration's proposal for peace. On that day, representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers local meet to vote for peace or a strike.

Believe Way Will Be Found.

Administration officials fear their efforts to avert a strike might be in vain mainly because a considerable number of the delegates attending the Pittsburgh meeting will carry instructions from their locals to vote for a strike unless the steel employers are forced to abide by the collective bargaining provision of the National Recovery Act by recognizing union delegates.

In spite of all these cloudy skies, there are some who persisted in the belief the president will find a peaceable way out of the controversy for both employers and workers. He did that in the automobile strike when conditions were considered hopeless.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Scorned in their bid for union recognition, the men of the nation's steel mills stood at the cross roads today while officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers hastily arranged for their crucial convention here Thursday.

The "rank and file" committee through its leader, Earl J. Forbeck, offered three ways by which trouble might be averted:

1. An election for employees representatives under government supervision.
2. Passage of the revised Wagner labor bill.
3. Conferences, supervised by President Roosevelt, and no one else, between the union's leaders and the American Iron and Steel Institute, representing the employers, to draw up labor legislation which must be passed by congress.

We further solicit the support of our government, the city officials and citizens of New Castle so that our employees may work uninterrupted and our plants be permitted to continue peaceful operations.

DROUGHT RELIEF PROGRAM

AS THE enormity of the drought disaster grows upon the public consciousness there is not likely to be much opposition to the president's drought relief program. This is a situation in which the liberal use of emergency funds is justified not only as a great humanitarian measure, but also to insure future agricultural enterprise. Considering the manner in which billions have been allotted in the past year, the proposed grant of $525,000,000 for farm aid is not out of proportion.

If all of the administration's expenditures had as sound a basis as the drought campaign the nation's taxpayers could feel that wise use was being made of their money.

But with thousands of producers being paid by the government to curtail their crops in order to raise prices at the same time that other thousands whose crops were ruined by the dry spell are rightfully obtaining public help, grave doubt is thrown on the AAA's whole scheme of planned farming.

MOUNTAINS AND PRESIDENTS

The House of Representatives has voted unanimously to name a mountain in Roan: county, Tennessee, "Mount Roosevelt." It was a gracious thing to do and it is gratifying to note that the Republican members of the house did not vote against it.

They were entirely justified, however, in criticizing the administration for changing the name of Hoover Dam to Boulder Dam. Representative Wolcott of Michigan declared that the secretary of the interior had belittled himself by changing the name of Hoover Dam, but that he and his Republican associates would not be small enough to show that kind of petty partisan animus.

The contrast in viewpoints revealed by this episode speaks for itself. The criticisms made by leading Republicans in their discussion of national issues have been centered largely upon measures rather than individuals. This is quite as it should be, but one wonders whether their political opponents, in a similar situation, would show equal restraint.

CRAMPING THE BANK HOLD-UP MAN

Cities and towns in the United States of less than 25,000 population need no longer fear that hold-up men will clean out the local bank—if the little bankers are willing to go along with the new Bank Robbery Limitation Plan recently put into effect by the member companies of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. The plan does not prevent hold-ups, but it does reduce the amount of money available to the great and little Dillingers to 15 per cent of that heretofore in-sight.

After several years of investigation, the companies determined that the small town bank seldom requires more than 15 per cent of its cash on its counters for its routine business. As long as the other 85 per cent is kept accessible there will be no interference with business.

The delayed time lock helped to work out a plan. This is an inexpensive device which enables the banker to open his safe during banking hours only, within 15 minutes or some other prearranged period after the time mechanism has been started. A hold-up takes from three to five minutes on the average. If 15 per cent cash were on the counter and 85 per cent in a vault where it would take time to obtain, the criminal would find his trade much less attractive.

The idea was put into effect in 23 middle western and southern states in 1933. The experiment was so successful that this year it was spread to the remaining 25 states.

As an illustration, if a bank taking this form of insurance has $10,000 cash, it is permitted to have $1,500 available on the counter, the remaining $8,500 being in a vault with a delayed time lock. If a depositor comes in with a large check, the bank starts the time lock to open a few minutes later. Once the money has been procured the vault is again locked and the business goes on. There is a similar ceremony at the opening of the bank in the morning and at night when it is closed.

Reports for the year's experience show that the plan has been extraordinarily successful. In Minnesota, for example, on three different days, in three different towns, robbers found, instead of $15,000 or $20,000, $2,000 or $2,500. They could not wait for the delayed time lock to operate.

PRAISE FOR THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

The Dionne quintuplets have been the sensation of the continent for several weeks, and there appears at the moment to be good basis for the contention that the tiny sisters may actually survive.

But whether all of them live, it remains that another plain, common country practitioner, Dr. A. R. Dafoe, has performed a remarkable achievement in keeping these tiny tots alive and apparently well, with fair chances for ultimate recovery.

Dafoe has little of the helpful modern equipment at hand when he attends the quintuplets and prescribes for them. But he has handled the case as well as it could have been handled anywhere, if we may take the word of his brother, Dr. William Dafoe, who is specialist and demonstrator of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Toronto.

Asked if, after he had recommended separate incubators for the quintuplets, this was the only change he would suggest in his brother's methods, the prominent specialist replied:

"Yes, it is, and you could hardly call that a change, could you? My brother has done everything possible for the babies. I do not believe anyone could have done more. Reports of some of his efforts might cause some in metropolitan centers to lift their eyebrows, but I am in complete accord with everything he has done."

This compliment was not a matter of brotherly love sentiment, either, for the Toronto expert had gone over the case thoroughly for several hours and had studied it from every angle with the express purpose in mind to offer suggestions and recommend changes in method, if any were needed. His tribute, that of a high-grade specialist in a large city with the most modern of equipment at his command to the country practitioner, was purely professional and entirely sincere.

And it comes as pleasing news, too, to the millions of folks in small towns and in rural districts who have been placing their faith in physicians like Dr. A. R. Dafoe for many, many years. They have recognized the genuine ability and the great service of these men, to whom humanity's needs are always paramount over the material things of life. Therefore they are gratified to see the same sort of recognition for the country doctor coming from the world at large and from a metropolitan center in particular.

DON'T LET YOUR LIBERALISM GO TOO FAR

In modernizing yourself isn't it true you've become too liberal in your views?

You think of older persons who still maintain strict ideas of right and wrong as being old fogies.

Some of the things such persons frown upon you think of as nothing that should be offensive to good taste or good morals.

Department which a few years ago would have stigmatized men and women and young people as being unwholesome is looked upon by you as something to be condoned.

You say it's progressive and that obsolete principles have no place in present day life.

To be considered "liberal" very likely you are over-stepping the bounds of propriety of even the present liberal age.

Have you ever thought of the effect on your children or the effect on the children of other parents because of your so-called "liberal attitude"?

If you cast good morals aside at an age when discretion and good judgment should temper your actions and words, what do you expect the young people to do?

REASON FOR PRAYER

A preacher, at the close of one of his sermons said: "Let all who are paying their debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception rose. The preacher seated them, and said: "Now, every man of you paying his debts stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry looking individual clothed in last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "that you are the only man not to meet his obligation?" "I'm sorry," he answered, "but I'm not a subscriber."

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister.

COMMENCEMENT
This is the road to knowledge, rugged and steep and slow. All you have learned at college leaves you with more to know. Books with the facts and figures. You've read in your cozy den. Now you must join with the diggers. Now you must learn from men.

Simple and clear the fact is. Gaze on it open-eyed. The skill and the art of practice is never by books supplied. Proficiency comes by doing. Again and again and again. By digging and dragging and hewing. Out there with your fellowmen.

The glory of college passes. As bloom on the apple bough. Though you stood at the top in your classes.

You must start at the bottom now. Make sure that they haven't fooled you. With praises not wholly true. In the lore of the books they've schooled you. But now you must learn to do. (Copyright, 1934, Edgar A. Guest)

Wall Street Throws Off Mask
Enthusiasm Succeeds Pessimism
Mexico Leader In Prosperity

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, June 12.—Wall Street has thrown off its mask of pessimism. Brokers are taking their vacations now, believing that volume of trading will increase during the summer.

Business, while holding up well, is beginning to slacken. Carolanings are dropping a bit, auto sales were not strong enough to maintain the old prices. On the other hand, the huge amount of surplus capital that has been in "hiding" is likely to seek investment when congress adjourns. That should stimulate business activities, especially such businesses, whose activities mean a spread of employment. One of those industries is building construction.

PROSPEROUS MEXICO
Americans used to look with pity on Mexico. Now Mexico looks with amused pity on the United States.

John B. Glenn, New York agent of the National Bank of Mexico, explains why:

"I am sure that I can say with-out equivocation that at present Mexico is the outstanding country among the Latin-American republics."

There is probably no other country today which has a balanced budget, exports greatly in excess of imports, no exchange restrictions of any kind, practically no unemployment and absolute confidence in the government."

Bankers hesitate to add that Mexico has carried forward successfully more social reforms than any other nation—reforms which, in the United States, are looked at askance.

IN GERMANY
If an American company is in Germany these days that no longer rates as an asset in Wall Street.

Wall Street was relieved to hear that the Woolworth company had only 81 stores with an investment of $7,091,562 in Germany.

Persons who bought German bonds of various sorts will fare much worse.

WEATHER MAPS
A New York newspaper with large weather maps and all sorts of weather instruments finds that this attractions increases daily.

The drought has caused the greatest interest in weather in history.

The result may be that weather maps will be drawn on large scale maps in the lobbies of public buildings in certain key cities.

At least, indications point to that.

UNKNOWN ELEMENT
Those familiar with the steel situation say that the government in its negotiations between employers and union fails to consider what the employers term the Communist union.

The reason the American Federation of Labor cannot take moderate midway steps is because the independent organization has the balance of power and a large number of men lean to it. A premature settlement might mean the doom of the American Federation of Labor.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

TUESDAY, JUNE 12

Memorable Days—June 12, 1775—Jeremiah O'Brien, 35, first naval hero of the United States, (twisted the British Lion's tail, off Machias, Maine.

On hearing of the affair at Lexington, he and four brothers and a few volunteers had captured the British armed schooner Marguerite, to leading at Machias, in the first naval engagement of the Revolution.

O'Brien and brothers sailed the schooner into the Bay of Fundy; encountered another schooner and tender sent by the British to search for the Marguerite; fought and captured them.

(The British got even with O'Brien when they captured him later, they sent him to the ill-famed Jersey prison-ship, a floating hell-hole anchored off New York in which more than 11,000 American prisoners died. O'Brien somehow survived it, only to be sent to another prison in England.)

June 12, 1903—Peter Karagjorgiev was enthroned as king of Serbia, in succession to King Alexander, who was murdered in his bed with his queen, Mme. Draga Mashin, adventures.

An important incident in history, for it was a crime that was a prelude to another assassination carried out by the same organization, "Unity or Death", which set the world on fire. The same conspirators responsible for the deaths of Alexander and Draga arranged the murder of Franz Ferdinand and his arch-duchess at Sarajevo on another June day, 11 years later.

Notable Nativities June 12—Sir Oliver Lodge, b. 1851, physicist and spiritualist. The Rev. Charles Kingsley, b. 1818, queen's chaplain, socialist, novelist and poet—Westward Ho, Hereward the Wake, The Water Babies, etc.—John A. Roebling, b. 1806, designer of Brooklyn Bridge. In the "Good Old Days"—On this date, in 1349, Edward III of England forbade the throwing of stones, handball, football, bandyball, cam-buck or cock-fighting, "or such-like vain plays which have no profit in them," and commanded all citizens to apply themselves in their spare time to archery. He feared that his subjects, in times of peace, would forget their skill with the cross-bow and arrow.

First of All—Congress passed a bill over a president's veto the first time, in 1845, to prevent any steam vessels from being built with federal funds without congress' specific approval. Some of the congressmen thought it would be a waste of money to build the new-fangled ships, others desired to protect sailing constituents.

Weekly Health Talk

"At this time of year outdoor sports come into their own. Tennis, golf, baseball and swimming are now daily adding thousands of seasonal recruits. However, it perhaps might be well to temper super-enthusiasm with a bit of caution. For while sports and play are of immense constructive value, like other good things they can be overdone with a consequent loss of their definite advantage," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"Already there have been reports of accidental drownings. Investigations of these cases, with but one or two exceptions, indicate that egotism or downright carelessness were to blame. In fact, a number of drownings involved 'expert' swimmers who, sold to their prowess, attempted feats beyond their capacity to endure. Others, under the temporary intoxication of the sport, carelessly went beyond their depth and sank before help could reach them. This latter fact indicates that it is most unwise to swim in isolated spots and thus deprive one's self of help in case of need.

"Pennsylvania has hundreds of well supervised, well regulated and sanitary outdoor pools and bathing beaches. Serious accidents seldom occur at them. These usually take place at the isolated spot or in out-of-sounds areas in lakes and the ocean.

Thus, swimming, one of the best sports from a health standpoint, needs to be indulged in with a proper respect for the possible hazards involved. Incidentally, middle aged and older persons should be physically checked up before engaging too strenuously in this form of activity.

"Even tennis, baseball and other recreational activities that demand maximum effort should be handled with a measure of restraint by those no longer young. Abruptly to step out of a winter's sedentary life and over-indulge in violent exercise of any kind is throwing a strain upon those of middle age that is quite unjustifiable. Numerous instances are on file where such practices have resulted in serious illness and even have proved fatal.

"The more, while it is common sense to make good use of the summer days in outdoor recreation, it is not common sense to go to extremes. Many bodies that have done their work excellently for 40 years or more can still take a lot of punishment, but wisdom prompts reasonable caution. In this way many serious and some fatal lack-fires can be avoided."

DROUGHT RELIEF PROGRAM

AS THE enormity of the drought disaster grows upon the public consciousness there is not likely to be much opposition to the president's drought relief program. This is a situation in which the liberal use of emergency funds is justified not only as a great humanitarian measure, but also to insure future agricultural enterprise. Considering the manner in which billions have been allotted in the past year, the proposed grant of $525,000,000 for farm aid is not out of proportion.

If all of the administration's expenditures had as sound a basis as the drought campaign the nation's taxpayers could feel that wise use was being made of their money.

But with thousands of producers being paid by the government to curtail their crops in order to raise prices at the same time that other thousands whose crops were ruined by the dry spell are rightfully obtaining public help, grave doubt is thrown on the AAA's whole scheme of planned farming.

MOUNTAINS AND PRESIDENTS

The House of Representatives has voted unanimously to name a mountain in Roane county, Tennessee, "Mount Roosevelt." It was a gracious thing to do and it is gratifying to note that the Republican members of the house did not vote against it.

They were entirely justified, however, in criticizing the administration for changing the name of Hoover Dam to Boulder Dam. Representative Wolcott of Michigan declared that the secretary of the interior had belittled himself by changing the name of Hoover Dam, but that he and his Republican associates would not be small enough to show that kind of petty partisan animus.

The contrast in viewpoints revealed by this episode speaks for itself. The criticisms made by leading Republicans in their discussion of national issues have been centered largely upon measures rather than individuals. This is quite as it should be, but one wonders whether their political opponents, in a similar situation, would show equal restraint.

CRAMPING THE BANK HOLD-UP MAN

Cities and towns in the United States of less than 25,000 population need no longer fear that hold-up men will clean out the local bank—if the little bankers are willing to go along with the new Bank Robbery Limitation Plan recently put into effect by the member companies of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. The plan does not prevent hold-ups, but it does reduce the amount of money available to the great and little Dillingers to 15 per cent of that heretofore in-sight.

After several years of investigation, the companies determined that the small town bank seldom requires more than 15 per cent of its cash on its counters for its routine business. As long as the other 85 per cent is kept accessible there will be no interference with business.

The delayed time lock helped to work out a plan. This is an inexpensive device which enables the banker to open his safe during banking hours only, within 15 minutes or some other prearranged period after the time mechanism has been started. A hold-up takes from three to five minutes on the average. If 15 per cent cash were on the counter and 85 per cent in a vault where it would take time to obtain, the criminal would find his trade much less attractive.

The idea was put into effect in 23 middle western and southern states in 1933. The experiment was so successful that this year it was spread to the remaining 25 states.

As an illustration, if a bank taking this form of insurance has $10,000 cash, it is permitted to have $1,500 available on the counter, the remaining $8,500 being in a vault with a delayed time lock. If a depositor comes in with a large check, the bank starts the time lock to open a few minutes later. Once the money has been procured the vault is again locked and the business goes on. There is a similar ceremony at the opening of the bank in the morning and at night when it is closed.

Reports for the year's experience show that the plan has been extraordinarily successful. In Minnesota, for example, on three different days, in three different towns, robbers found, instead of $15,000 or $20,000, $2,000 or $2,500. They could not wait for the delayed time lock to operate.

PRAISE FOR THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

The Dionne quintuplets have been the sensation of the continent for several weeks, and there appears at the moment to be good basis for the contention that the tiny sisters may actually survive.

But whether all of them live, it remains that another plain, common country practitioner, Dr. A. R. Dafeo, has performed a remarkable achievement in keeping these tiny tots alive and apparently well, with fair chances for ultimate recovery.

Dafeo has little of the helpful modern equipment at hand when he attends the quintuplets and prescribes for them. But he has handled the case as well as it could have been handled anywhere, if we may take the word of his brother, Dr. William Dafeo, who is specialist and demonstrator of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Toronto.

Asked if, after he had recommended separate incubators for the quintuplets, this was the only change he would suggest in his brother's methods, the prominent specialist replied:

"Yes, it is, and you could hardly call that a change, could you?"

My brother has done everything possible for the babies. I do not believe anyone could have done more. Reports of some of his efforts might cause some in metropolitan centers to lift their eyebrows, but I am in complete accord with everything he has done."

This compliment was not a matter of brotherly love sentiment, either, for the Toronto expert had gone over the case thoroughly for several hours and had studied it from every angle with the express purpose in mind to offer suggestions and recommend changes in method, if any were needed. His tribute, that of a high-grade specialist in a large city with the most modern of equipment at his command to the country practitioner, was purely professional and entirely sincere.

And it comes as pleasing news, too, to the millions of folks in small towns and in rural districts who have been placing their faith in physicians like Dr. A. R. Dafeo for many, many years. They have recognized the genuine ability and the great service of these men, to whom humanity's needs are always paramount over the material things of life. Therefore they are gratified to see the same sort of recognition for the country doctor coming from the world at large and from a metropolitan center in particular.

DON'T LET YOUR LIBERALISM GO TOO FAR

In modernizing yourself isn't it true you've become too liberal in your views?

You think of older persons who still maintain strict ideas of right and wrong as being old fogies. Some of the things such persons frown upon you think of as nothing that should be offensive to good taste or good morals.

Department which a few years ago would have stigmatized men and women and young people as being unwholesome is looked upon by you as something to be condoned.

You say it's progression and that obsolete principles have no place in present day life. The "liberal" very likely you are over-stepping the bounds of propriety of even the present liberal age.

Have you ever thought of the effect on your children or the effect on the children of other parents because of your so-called "liberal attitude?" If you cast good morals aside at an age when discretion and good judgment should temper your actions and words, what do you expect the young people to do?

REASON FOR PRAYER

A preacher, at the close of one of his sermons said, "Let all who are weary of their debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception rose. The preacher seated them, and said: "Now, every man of paying, his debts stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry looking individual clothed in last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "that you are the only man not to meet his obligations?" "I run a weekly newspaper," he meekly answered, "and the brethren who stood up are my subscribers, and 'Let us pray,' exclaimed the minister.

COMMENCEMENT
This is the road to knowledge. Rugged and steep and slow. All you have learned at college leaves you with more to know. Books with the facts and figures. You've read in your cozy den. Now you must join with the diggers. Now you must learn from men.

Simple and clear the fact is. Gaze on it open-eyed. The skill and the art of practice. Is never by books supplied. Proficiency comes by doing. Again and again and again. By digging and dragging and heaving. Out there with your fellowmen.

The glory of college passes. As bloom on the apple bough. Though you stood at the top in your classes.

You must start at the bottom now. Make sure that they haven't fooled you.

Wall Street Throws Off Mask
Enthusiasm Succeds Pessimism
Mexico Leader In Prosperity

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, June 12.—Wall Street has thrown off its mask of pessimism. Brokers are taking their vacations now, believing that volume of trading will increase during the summer.

Business, while holding up well, is beginning to slacken. Carloadings are dropping a bit, auto sales were not strong enough to maintain the old prices. On the other hand, the huge amount of surplus capital that has been in "hiding" is likely to seek investment when Congress adjourns. That should stimulate business activities, especially such businesses whose activities mean a spread of employment. One of those industries is building construction.

PROSPEROUS MEXICO
Americans used to look with pity on Mexico. Now Mexico looks with amused pity on the United States.

John B. Glenn, New York agent of the National Bank of Mexico, explains why:

"I am sure that I can say without equivocation that at present Mexico is the outstanding country among the Latin-American republics."

"There is probably no other country today which has a balanced budget, exports greatly in excess of imports, no exchange restrictions of any kind, practically no unemployment and absolute confidence in the government."

Bankers hesitate to add that Mexico has carried forward successfully more social reforms than any other nation—reforms which, in the United States, are looked at askance.

IN GERMANY
If an American company is in Germany these days that no longer rates as an asset in Wall Street.

Wall Street was relieved to hear that the Woolworth company had only 81 stores with an investment of $7,091,562 in Germany.

Persons who bought German bonds of various sorts will fare much worse.

WEATHER MAPS
A New York newspaper with large weather maps and all sorts of weather instruments finds that this attractions increases daily.

The drought has caused the greatest interest in weather in history.

The result may be that weather maps will be drawn in large scale maps in the lobbies of public buildings in certain key cities.

At least, indications point to that.

UNKNOWN ELEMENT
Those familiar with the steel situation say that the government in its negotiations between employers and union fails to consider what the employers term the Communist union. The reason the American Federation of Labor cannot take moderate midway steps is because the independent organization has the balance of power and a large number of men lean to it. A premature settlement might mean the doom of the American Federation of Labor.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

TUESDAY, JUNE 12

Memorable Days—June 12, 1775—Jeremiah O'Brien, 35, first naval hero of the United States, twisted the British Lion's tail, off Machias, Maine.

On hearing of the affair at Lexington, he and four brothers and a few volunteers had captured the British armed schooner Margarett, to loading at Machias, in the first naval engagement of the Revolution.

O'Brien and brothers sailed the schooner into the Bay of Fundy; encountered another schooner and sent by the British to search for the Margarett; fought and captured her.

(The British got even with O'Brien when they captured him later, they sent him to the ill-famed Jersey prison-ship, a floating hell-hole anchored off New York in which more than 11,000 American prisoners died.)

O'Brien somehow survived it, only to be sent to another prison in England.)

June 12, 1776—The foundation of democratic government in America was laid in the Virginia convention at Williamsburg. The delegates adopted unanimously a declaration of rights drafted by George Mason, 51, planter. The same Mason who refused to subscribe to the Constitution of the U. S. It declared that all men are by nature equally free, and are invested with inalienable rights—namely, the enjoyment of life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness and safety; that all power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the people; that government is, or ought to be, instituted for the common benefit and security of the people, nation or community, and that when government fails to perform its required functions, majority of the people have the inalienable right to reform or abolish it, etc.

The original exponent of democratic principles in the United States would today be liable to arrest for sedition, and undoubtedly classed as a dangerous radical, for his refusal what you need in the following old-time poem which compares almost everything you can think of.

Weekly Health Talk

"At this time of year outdoor sports come into their own. Tennis, golf, baseball and swimming are now daily adding thousands of seasonal recruits. However, it perhaps might be well to temper superenthusiasm with a bit of caution. For while sports and play are of innumerable constructive value, like other good things they can be overdone with a consequent loss of their definitiveness," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"Already there have been reports of accidental drownings. Investigations of these cases, with but one or two exceptions, indicate that egotism or downright carelessness were to blame. In fact, a number of drownings involved 'expert' swimmers who, sold to their prowess, attempted feats beyond their capacity to endure. Others, under the temporary intoxication of the sport, carelessly went beyond their depth and sank before help could reach them. This latter fact indicates that it is most unwise to swim in isolated spots and thus deprive one's self of help in case of need."

"Pennsylvania has hundreds of well supervised, well regulated and sanitary outdoor pools and bathing beaches. Serious accidents seldom occur at them. These usually take

DROUGHT RELIEF PROGRAM

AS THE enormity of the drought disaster grows upon the public consciousness there is not likely to be much opposition to the president's drought relief program. This is a situation in which the liberal use of emergency funds is justified not only as a great humanitarian measure, but also to insure future agricultural enterprise. Considering the manner in which billions have been allotted in the past year, the proposed grant of $525,000,000 for farm aid is not out of proportion.

If all of the administration's expenditures had as sound a basis as the drought campaign the nation's taxpayers could feel that wise use was being made of their money.

But with thousands of producers being paid by the government to curtail their crops in order to raise prices at the same time that other thousands whose crops were ruined by the dry spell are rightfully obtaining public help, grave doubt is thrown on the AAA's whole scheme of planned farming.

MOUNTAINS AND PRESIDENTS

The House of Representatives has voted unanimously to name a mountain in Roane county, Tennessee, "Mount Roosevelt." It was a gracious thing to do and it is gratifying to note that the Republican members of the house did not vote against it.

They were entirely justified, however, in criticizing the administration for changing the name of Hoover Dam to Boulder Dam. Representative Wolcott of Michigan declared that the secretary of the interior had belittled himself by changing the name of Hoover Dam, but that he and his Republican associates would not be small enough to show that kind of petty partisan animus.

The contrast in viewpoints revealed by this episode speaks for itself. The criticisms made by leading Republicans in their discussion of national issues have been centered largely upon measures rather than individuals. This is quite as it should be, but one wonders whether their political opponents, in a similar situation, would show equal restraint.

CRAMPING THE BANK HOLD-UP MAN

Cities and towns in the United States of less than 25,000 population need no longer fear that hold-up men will clean out the local bank—if the little bankers are willing to go along with the new Bank Robbery Limitation Plan recently put into effect by the member companies of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. The plan does not prevent hold-ups, but it does reduce the amount of money available to the great and little Dillingers to 15 per cent of that heretofore in-sight.

After several years of investigation, the companies determined that the small town bank seldom requires more than 15 per cent of its cash on its counters for its routine business. As long as the other 85 per cent is kept accessible there will be no interference with business.

The delayed time lock helped to work out a plan. This is an inexpensive device which enables the banker to open his safe during banking hours only, within 15 minutes or some other prearranged period after the time mechanism has been started. A hold-up takes from three to five minutes on the average. If 15 per cent cash were on the counter and 85 per cent in a vault where it would take time to obtain, the criminal would find his trade much less attractive.

The idea was put into effect in 23 middle western and southern states in 1933. The experiment was so successful that this year it was spread to the remaining 25 states.

As an illustration, if a bank taking this form of insurance has $10,000 cash, it is permitted to have $1,500 available on the counter, the remaining $8,500 being in a vault with a delayed time lock. If a depositor comes in with a large check, the bank starts the time lock to open a few minutes later. Once the money has been procured the vault is again locked and the business goes on. There is a similar ceremony at the opening of the bank in the morning and at night when it is closed.

Reports for the year's experience show that the plan has been extraordinarily successful. In Minnesota, for example, on three different days, in three different towns, robbers found, instead of $15,000 or $20,000, $2,000 or $2,500. They could not wait for the delayed time lock to operate.

PRAISE FOR THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

The Dionne quintuplets have been the sensation of the continent for several weeks, and there appears at the moment to be good basis for the contention that the tiny sisters may actually survive.

But whether all of them live, it remains that another plain, common country practitioner, Dr. A. R. Dafeo, has performed a remarkable achievement in keeping these tiny tots alive and apparently well, with fair chances for ultimate recovery.

Dafeo has little of the helpful modern equipment at hand when he attends the quintuplets and prescribes for them. But he has handled the case as well as it could have been handled anywhere, if we may take the word of his brother, Dr. William Dafeo, who is specialist and demonstrator of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Toronto.

Asked if, after he had recommended separate incubators for the quintuplets, this was the only change he would suggest in his brother's methods, the prominent specialist replied:

"Yes, it is, and you could hardly call that a change, could you? My brother has done everything possible for the babies. I do not believe anyone could have done more. Reports of some of his efforts might cause some in metropolitan centers to lift their eyebrows, but I am in complete accord with everything he has done."

This compliment was not a matter of brotherly love sentiment, either, for the Toronto expert had gone over the case thoroughly for several hours and had studied it from every angle with the express purpose in mind to offer suggestions and recommend changes in method, if any were needed. His tribute, that of a high-grade specialist in a large city with the most modern of equipment at his command to the country practitioner, was purely professional and entirely sincere.

And it comes as pleasing news, too, to the millions of folks in small towns and in rural districts who have been placing their faith in physicians like Dr. A. R. Dafeo for many, many years. They have recognized the genuine ability and the great service of these men, to whom humanity's needs are always paramount over the material things of life. Therefore they are gratified to see the same sort of recognition for the country doctor coming from the world at large and from a metropolitan center in particular.

DON'T LET YOUR LIBERALISM GO TOO FAR

In modernizing yourself isn't it true you've become too liberal in your views?

You think of older persons who still maintain strict ideas of right and wrong as being old fogies. Some of the things such persons from upon you think of as nothing that should be offensive to good taste or good morals.

Department which a few years ago would have stigmatized men and women and young people as being unwholesome is looked upon by you as something to be condoned.

You say it's progression and that obsolete principles have no place in present day life.

To be considered "liberal" very likely you are over-stepping the bounds of propriety of even the present liberal age.

Have you ever thought of the effect on your children or the effect on the children of other parents because of your so-called "liberal attitude?"

If you cast good morals aside at an age when discretion and good judgment should temper your actions and words, what do you expect the young people to do?

REASON FOR PRAYER

A preacher, at the close of one of his sermons said: "Let all who are paying their debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception rose. The preacher seated them, and said: "Now, every man of paying his debts stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry looking individual clothed in last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "that you are the only man not to meet his obligations?" "I run a weekly newspaper," he meekly answered, "and the brethren who stood up are my subscribers, and I."

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister.

The World At A Glance

Wall Street Throws Off Mask
Enthusiasm Succeeds Pessimism
Mexico Leader In Prosperity

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, June 12.—Wall Street has thrown off its mask of pessimism. Brokers are taking their vacations now, believing that volume of trading will increase during the summer.

Business, while holding up well, is beginning to slacken. Carloadings are dropping a bit, auto sales were not strong enough to maintain the old prices. On the other hand, the huge amount of surplus capital that has been in "hiding" is likely to seek investment when congress adjourns. That should stimulate business activities, especially such businesses whose activities mean a spread of employment. One of those industries is building construction.

PROSPEROUS MEXICO
Americans used to look with pity on Mexico. Now Mexico looks with amused pity on the United States. John B. Glenn, New York agent of the National Bank of Mexico, explains why:

"I am sure that I can say without equivocation that at present Mexico is the outstanding country among the Latin-American republics. 'There is probably no other country today which has a balanced budget, exports greatly in excess of imports, no exchange restrictions of any kind, practically no unemployment and absolute confidence in the government.'"

Bankers hesitate to add that Mexico has carried forward successfully more social reforms than any other nation—reforms which, in the United States, are looked at askance.

IN GERMANY
If an American company is in Germany these days that no longer rates as an asset in Wall Street. Wall Street was relieved to hear that the Woolworth company had only 81 stores with an investment of $7,091,562 in Germany.

Persons who bought German bonds of various sorts will fare much worse.

WEATHER MAPS

A New York newspaper with large weather maps and all sorts of weather instruments finds that these attractions increases daily.

The drought has caused the greatest interest in weather in history. The result may be that weather maps will be drawn on large scale maps in the lobbies of public buildings in certain key cities.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12

Memorable Days—June 12, 1775—Jeremiah O'Brien, 35, first naval hero of the United States, twisted the British Lion's tail, off Machias, Maine.

On hearing of the affair at Lexington, he and four brothers and a few volunteers had captured the British armed schooner Marguerite, loading at Machias, in the first naval engagement of the Revolution.

O'Brien and brothers sailed the schooner into the Bay of Fundy; encountered another schooner and tender sent by the British to search for the Marguerite; fought and captured them.

The British got even with O'Brien when they captured him later, they sent him to the ill-famed Jersey prison-ship, a floating hell-hole anchored off New York in which more than 11,000 American prisoners died. O'Brien somehow survived it, only to be sent to another prison in England.

June 12, 1776—The foundation of democratic government in America was laid in the Virginia convention at Williamsburg. The delegates adopted unanimously a declaration of rights drafted by George Mason, 51, planter. The same Mason who refused to subscribe to the Constitution of the U. S.!

It declared that all men are by nature equally free, and are invested with inalienable rights—namely, the enjoyment of life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness and safety; that all power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the people; that government is, or ought to be, instituted for the common benefit and security of the people, nation or community, and that when government shall fail to perform its required functions, a majority of the people have the inalienable right to reform or abolish it, etc.

The original exponent of democratic principles in the United States would today be liable to arrest for sedition, and undoubtedly classed as a dangerous radical, for his refusal to subscribe to the Constitution.

Mason was the author of the constitution of Virginia, and a leading member of the convention which framed the national Constitution. But the Virginian was dissatisfied with it because it did not outlaw slavery, and for other reasons, and refused to sign it. With Patrick Henry, he led the opposition to its ratification by Virginia. He likewise refused to serve under it in the

He feared that his subjects in times of peace would forget their skill with the cross-bow and arrow.

First of All—Congress passed a bill over a president's veto the first time, in 1845, to prevent any steam vessels from being built with federal funds without congress' specific approval. Some of the congressmen thought it would be a waste of money to build new-fangled ships. Others desired to protect sailing constituents.

Homestead Project Approval Is Sought

Determined Fight In Congress To Save Project Started By Mrs. Roosevelt

Complete Revision Of Original Plans May Satisfy Congress, Leader Hopes

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 12.—A determined fight to save Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's favorite suburban homestead project at Reedsville, W. Va., was opened today by chairman Mead (D) of New York of the house post office committee. Predicting committee approval of a bill to establish a post office equipment factory there, Mead will seek to bring the bill to the house floor within a few days. Democratic leaders in both senate and house are being urged to make the bill a "must" measure as a commitment to the first lady.

Plans Revised.
A complete revision of the original plan was decided upon in the hope of overcoming opposition of members who object to government competition with private business. The bill of Rep. Randolph (D) of West Virginia, as revised by a subcommittee, would provide a market for the products of a $650,000 factory to be built at Reedsville with public works funds. The factory would manufacture lock boxes and screen line equipment for third class post offices. A prohibition would be carried against the manufacture of furniture. Earlier in the session the house defeated a provision in the treasury-post office supply bill for the factory to manufacture furniture.

New Idea Offered
Chairman Mead, however, introduced a new idea which may produce some contention. He proposed to ultimately move all post office repair shops from big cities to suburban homesteads such as Reedsville. Thus the President's plan of decentralizing industry would be furthered, he said.

"At the present time," said Mead, "some of the equipment for third class post offices is leased by postmasters and some is owned by the government. We have evidence that exorbitant amounts have been obtained on leases. This is a type of work that can well be done at Reedsville. There would be no competition, because the government would be the only buyer. I am confident that both the committee and the house will approve it."

LAY LAST STONE AT POST OFFICE IN SHORT WHILE

Interior Of Federal Building Shows Progress—Erect 'Peek Holes'

Only a short time now remains before the last stone is set into position at the new post office building on the public square and the tall hoist that lifted the stones of the structure into place is removed, George J. Murphy, superintendent for the A. W. Kutsche company, contractors, said today.

With the completion of the stone work all attention will be concentrated, he stated, on the completion of the building's interior.

Hidden behind the stone walls for weeks, skilled mechanics of various trades have been laboriously at work and will be for some time, hoping to get the building ready for the new occupancy date, December 1, 1934. Officials "peek holes" are now being installed—"peek holes" known to every post office building—where U. S. inspectors observe unnoticed, whenever they choose to, the work of the postal force. Two freight elevators are also being erected. Other special features are being rushed.

Scientists here were studying development of the insects which emerged, wingless, from the earth, shed their shell and within a few hours, grew wings to fly for the rest of their life span—four days—covering trees and neighboring forests and fields.

Homestead Project Approval Is Sought

Determined Fight In Congress To Save Project Started By Mrs. Roosevelt

Complete Revision Of Original Plans May Satisfy Congress, Leader Hopes

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A determined fight to save Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's favorite subsistence homestead project at Reedsville, W. Va., was opened today by chairman Mead (D) of New York, of the house post office committee. Predicting committee approval of a bill to establish a post office equipment factory there, Mead will seek to bring the bill to the house floor within a few days. Democratic leaders in both senate and house are being urged to make the bill a "must" measure as a compliment to the first lady.

Plans Revised.

A complete revision of the original plan was decided upon in the hope of overcoming opposition of members who object to government competition with private business. The bill of Rep. Randolph (D) of West Virginia, as revised by a subcommittee, would provide, a market for the products of a $650,000 factory to be built at Reedsville with public works funds. The factory would manufacture lock boxes and screen line equipment for third class post offices. A prohibition would be carried against the manufacture of furniture. Earlier in the session the house defeated a provision in the treasury-post office supply bill for the factory to manufacture furniture.

New Idea Offered

Chairman Mead, however, introduced a new idea which may produce some contention. He proposed to ultimately move all post office repair shops from big cities to subsistence homesteads such as Reedsville. Thus the President's plan of decentralizing industry would be furthered, he said.

"At the present time," said Mead, "some of the equipment for third class post offices is leased by postmasters and some is owned by the government. We have evidence that exorbitant amounts have been obtained on leases. This is a type of work that can well be done at Reedsville. There would be no competition, because the government would be the only buyer. I am confident that both the committee and the house will approve it."

LAY LAST STONE AT POST OFFICE IN SHORT WHILE

Interior Of Federal Building Shows Progress—Erect 'Peek Holes'

Only a short time now remains before the last stone is set into position at the new post office building on the public square and the tall hoist that lifted the stones of the structure into place is removed, George J. Murphy, superintendent for the A. W. Kutsche company, contractors, said today.

With the completion of the stone work all attention will be concentrated, he stated, on the completion of the building's interior. Hidden behind the stone walls for weeks, skilled mechanics of various trades have been laboriously at work and will be for some time, hoping to get the building ready for the new occupancy date, December 1, 1934. Officials "peek holes" are now being installed—"peek holes" known to every post office building—where U. S. inspectors observe unnoticed, whenever they choose to, the work of the postal force. Two freight elevators are also being erected. Other special features are being rushed.

Dead Doctor Heals Stomach Ailments

A weird story is told of a well-known specialist reaching from the grave to cure stomach suffering. Years ago this doctor created a prescription for stomach ailments, stomach gas, pain, heartburn, indigestion, bloating, belching, and other symptoms when caused by excess acid. Then the good doctor died. But his name brought fame after death as one user told another of his wonderful prescription. In the past six years, 54,126 grateful persons have written letters telling of their recovery. This prescription is now being sold to hundreds of thousands as the Unga Treatment. All stomach sufferers may have a free sample of Unga Tablets by writing to Unga Tablets, Inc., 100 E. 12th St., New York, N. Y. The seven-day trial box of Unga Tablets is sold under a money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. June 11, four arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 1, disorderly conduct 2, and suspicion 1.

Owing to the convention of the State Association of Planning Commissioners city council did not attempt to transact any business Monday.

Under a state law they had to meet. However, after having gone through this formality the body adjourned and met with the visiting delegates at The Castleton. The City Planning commission has been organized for approximately eight years and according to a recent statement by President Matthew Guntton the commission has had the whole-hearted support of city council since the organization of the local commission.

Probabilities are that Police Chief Haven will soon issue orders to arrest all persons who congregate after midnight on street corners and make also something to be forgotten, by songs. For some time gangs have been congregating in different sections and have made the night hideouts for men who must go to work at an early hour in the morning. Persons who disturb the quiet of the night are not boys but persons old enough to know better, the chief says.

Council chambers, city hall, was thronged by barbers yesterday. They came from all sections of the county and had been summoned by Chief Semenov of law enforcement of the state department of public instruction. According to an inspector who gave testimony in every case called the barbers had violated some part of the law pertaining to sanitation. All instruments must be sterilized before service is given. None but fresh laundered towels or fresh paper can be used. Use of finger bowls, powder puffs and styptic pencils or spoons are allowed and a barber must wash his hands immediately before serving each customer. They dare not treat any disease of the skin.

Health conditions here have improved during the past week. Only one report of contagion was received over the week end. The big worry of the health authorities now is the likelihood of typhoid fever. The health officer, Dr. W. L. Steen has issued several warnings that people who take auto tours should not drink from other than approved wells.

CARS "Inhale" LIKE YOU DO!

Yes, Engines actually Breathe!...Why Gasoline must Mix with AIR!

BEFORE YOU READ this advertisement stop for a moment and notice the way you "breathe."

Just like clockwork... your lungs inhale breath after breath of fresh air. And it's this same life-giving oxygen that helps to run your car.

Here's what happens. Liquid gasoline won't burn in your engine. But gasoline mixed with AIR forms the powerful gas that makes your engine go.

That's why AIR has a lot to do with the way your car performs. Perhaps you've noticed it... at night particularly your car seems to run better than during a hot, sultry day.

Weather does make a difference in your "gas" mixture... and that's why Socony-Vacuum engineers developed and perfected Climatic Control.

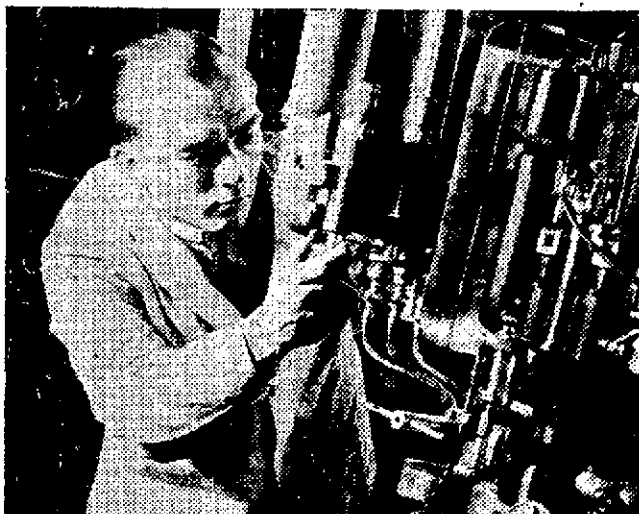

In simple words, this means a gasoline that works well in any kind of weather... rain or shine, hot or cold, morning or night.

With Mobilgas in your gasoline tank, you get brilliant performance all the time. Your car starts quick. Gets away fast when the lights go green. Has that extra "pull" when hills get steep. You can forget the weather!

Why not choose this gasoline that mixes better with all kinds of air? You can buy Mobilgas where you see the sign of the Flying Red Horse.

YES, CARS INHALE, TOO! Gasoline must mix with large quantities of air to make the "gas" that runs your car. That's why it's important for gasoline to be a good mixer with all kinds of air.

IT'S AN OLD SAYING that everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it. Socony-Vacuum engineers work night and day to give you a weather-proof gasoline.

SUNNY SUNDAY! The sun is shining brightly in this picture. But before the day is over, the weather may change. Rain brings a different atmosphere... different operating conditions for your car.

THAT'S WHAT WE MEAN BY "CLIMATIC CONTROL"

For some time gangs have been congregating in different sections and have made the night hideous for men who must go to work at an early hour in the morning. Persons who disturb the quiet of the night are not boys but persons old enough to know better, the chief says.

Council chambers, city hall, was thronged by barbers yesterday. They came from all sections of the county and had been summoned by Chief Semenov of law enforcement of the state department of public instruction. According to an inspector who gave testimony in every case called the barbers had violated some part of the law pertaining to sanitation. All instruments must be sterilized before service is given. None but fresh laundered towels or fresh paper can be used. Use of finger bowls, powder puffs and styptic pencils or sponges are allowed and a barber must wash his hands immediately before serving each customer. They dare not treat any disease of the skin.

Health conditions here have improved during the past week. Only one report of contagion was received over the week end. The big worry of the health authorities now is the likelihood of typhoid fever. The health officer, Dr. W. L. Steen has issued several warnings that people who take auto tours should not drink from other than approved wells.

Italy To Build Big Battleships

(International News Service)
ROME, June 12.—The Italian press greeted with enthusiasm today the government's decision to build two great 35,000 ton battleships, the first to be built in the world in 13 years.

The ships are expected to be ready in 1937. Italy's decision to use her tonnage allowance under the London naval agreement in two great ships may have great influence on the 1935 limitation conference. England has heretofore been against the construction of more battleships in the world. But the presence of two such great ships in the Mediterranean, overshadowing the Rodney and the Nelson, at present the most powerful warships in the world, may change her mind.

CARS "Inhale" LIKE YOU DO!

Yes, Engines actually Breathe!... Why Gasoline must Mix with AIR!

BEFORE YOU READ this advertisement stop for a moment and notice the way you "breathe."

Just like clockwork... your lungs inhale breath after breath of fresh air. And it's this same life-giving oxygen that helps to run your car.

Here's what happens. Liquid gasoline won't burn in your engine. But gasoline mixed with AIR forms the powerful gas that makes your engine go.

That's why AIR has a lot to do with the way your car performs. Perhaps you've noticed it... at night particularly your car seems to run better than during a hot, sultry day.

Weather does make a difference in your "gas" mixture... and that's why Socony-Vacuum engineers developed and perfected Climatic Control.

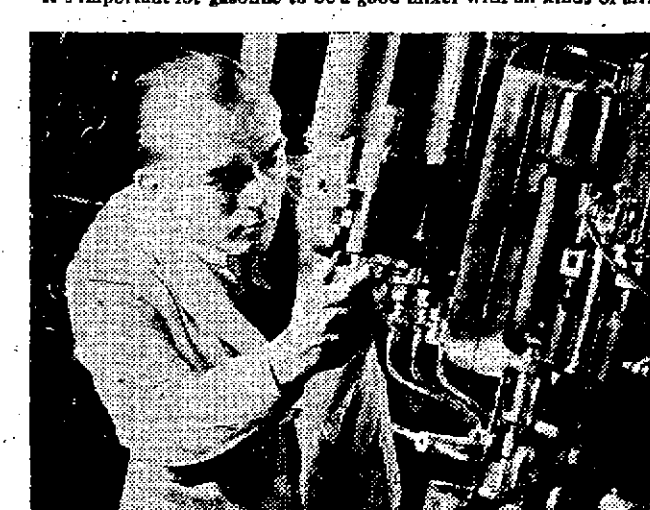

In simple words, this means a gasoline that works well in any kind of weather... rain or shine, hot or cold, morning or night.

With Mobilgas in your gasoline tank, you get brilliant performance all the time. Your car starts quick. Gets away fast when the lights go green. Has that extra "pull" when hills get steep. You can forget the weather!

Why not choose this gasoline that mixes better with all kinds of air? You can buy Mobilgas where you see the sign of the Flying Red Horse.

YES, CARS INHALE, TOO! Gasoline must mix with large quantities of air to make the "gas" that runs your car. That's why it's important for gasoline to be a good mixer with all kinds of air.

IT'S AN OLD SAYING that everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it. Socony-Vacuum engineers work night and day to give you a weather-proof gasoline.

SUNNY SUNDAY! The sun is shining brightly in this picture. But before the day is over, the weather may change. Rain brings a different atmosphere... different operating conditions for your car.

THAT'S WHAT WE MEAN BY "CLIMATIC CONTROL"

ANOTHER THING motorists like about buying Mobilgas is the Friendly Service they get at Mobilgas dealers. The stations are clean... the attendants courteous. You'll want to come back.

Saturday's receipts for county taxes amounted to $2,187.70, making a total of $13,777.41 for the first week during which county taxes were payable, according to County Treasurer, William O. Pitts. The receipts Saturday were distributed as follows: County, $1,309.88; state, $223.20; poor, $654.82.

Miss Lillian Price, clerk in the prothonotary's office, began her vacation yesterday. She expects to go to California with her brother-in-law, Homer Weitz and family, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, the latter a sister of Miss Price and Mrs. Weitz. During the absence of Miss Price, which will be for about six weeks, her place will be taken by Miss Della Vaughn. The trip to California will be made by automobile.

Forty-six instruments of all kinds were recorded at the office of Register and Recorder, William R. Hanna last week, compared with 43 during the previous week. There were 15 deeds and 10 mortgages. The Home Loan corporation made another good record last week, placing nine mortgages totaling $36,816.33, as against six, totaling $21,014.28 the previous week. Last week was almost up to the record made during the week of May 19th, when the home owners loan mortgages totaled, $36,858.12. Five mortgages to individuals last week totaled $9,800, three to the Federal Land bank, $5,500 and two to building and loans, $5,800.

Sheriff, Edward D. Pritchard will have nineteen sheriff sales for July, according to the executions now issued, or only slightly less than the number for June. Few, if any, of the executions, are on properties in which there is any substantial equity. Back taxes and back interest have been mounting up and are largely responsible for many of the executions. Scarcely of mortgage money has made it impossible for the mortgagors to replace their loans.

Records in the office of the Prothonotary, R. M. Campbell, show that the first murder trial ever held in Lawrence county occurred during the September term of 1851, or over a year after the first court was held in this county, on January 7, 1850.

The defendant in the case was John Salander, who was arraigned for the killing of Samuel Knox. Salander was a Frenchman who peddled stoves around the country, while Knox was a jeweler of North Beaver township. On Wednesday, July 9, 1851, the two had been drinking together in North Beaver, according to the story, and started off together on the Pulaski road.

Before they had proceeded far, a quarrel arose, and Knox was so severely injured that he died the following day. Salander was arrested. A true bill was found against him, but at the trial he set up a self defence plea and was acquitted. The jury that tried the case was composed of Joseph McClean, Adam Leslie, John Dickson, Andrew Lewis, Richard Craven, Lewis Fulkerson, Charles Bear, Samuel Gennini, John Ferguson, William Emery, Samuel Carr and John Miller.

County Commissioner Elmer Conners and State Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner visited the Park Gate road yesterday on requests from citizens that a change be made in the elevation of the road just outside of Ellwood City. They were able to agree on the changes and they will be made.

Clerks in the county commission's office are busy writing in descriptions of property on the assessment books. The descriptions were taken on blank forms when the assessments were made and are now being transferred to the books in accordance with a recent law.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. June 11, four arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 1, disorderly conduct 2, and suspicion 1.

Owing to the convention of the State Association of Planning commissioners city council did not attempt to transact any business Monday. Under a state law they had to meet. However, after having gone through this formality the body adjourned and met with the visiting delegates at The Castleton. The City Planning commission has been organized for approximately eight years and according to a recent statement by President Matthew Gunton the commission has had the whole-hearted support of city councils since the organization of the local commission.

Probabilities are that Police Chief Haven will soon issue orders to arrest all persons who congregate after midnight on street corners and make sleep something to be forgotten, by songs. For some time gangs have been congregating in different sections and have made the night hideous for men who must go to work at an early hour in the morning. Persons who disturb the quiet of the night are not boys but persons old enough to know better, the chief says.

nounce Y Plans.

Water in the cool Y. M. C. A. pool never splashed higher than it did as approximately 300 young non-swimmers, assigned to seven different instruction classes, received their first lessons this afternoon in the Y's 10-day "Learn to Swim" campaign. The assignments were given out yesterday.

After the 10 days have passed, it is the hope of the capable instructors that many of the youngsters will be able to navigate "on their own" the 60-foot swim from one end of the Y pool to the other. To be a standard Y swimmer one must do exactly that.

The swimming campaign, sponsored at no cost whatever to the boys, opens for the Y. M. C. A. a busy vacation schedule.

Alleged Blackmailer Is Shot To Death

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 12.—Joseph Cardinale, 56, was shot and killed on a downtown street corner late yesterday. Police are holding Thomas Bellifore, 65, a laborer, on a charge of murder.

Bellifore says Cardinale made this threat: "You better have $10,000 ready for me tomorrow night or I'll burn up your house and you and your family with it."

Police quote the prisoner as saying that he had been receiving blackmail letters since April 1, and that the threat caused him to "lose control of himself."

Car Slows Down Behind Horse;
Figures In Accident

Edward Van Kirk, 19, of 16 North Fremont avenue, Bellevue, Pa., is in the Jameson Memorial hospital with lacerations of the head as the result of an auto accident in which a horse and rider figured on Perry highway, near Hunt's barbecue place at 8 a. m., today.

According to Highway Patrolman William Stoopes' investigation, Clarence Hunt was riding a horse along the highway.

An auto driven by Lawrence Trainor, Fifth street, Duquesne, Pa., was in the rear of the horse.

Owing to traffic operating toward Pittsburgh he could not pull around the horse and slowed down.

The car driven by Van Kirk was behind Trainor's machine and apparently he did not notice Trainor's car slow down.

His machine struck the rear of Trainor's.

It is reported that his mother also was injured. Edward and the small boy, who was uninjured, were brought here.

Swim Campaign At Y Draws 300

Non-Swimmers All, They Hope To Swim Soon; Announce Y Plans.

Water in the cool Y. M. C. A. pool never splashed higher than it did as approximately 300 young non-swimmers, assigned to seven different instruction classes, received their first lessons this afternoon in the Y's 10-day "Learn to Swim" campaign. The assignments were given out yesterday.

After the 10 days have passed, it is the hope of the captains and instructors that many of the youngsters will be able to navigate "on their own" the 60-foot swim from one end of the Y pool to the other. To be a standard Y swimmer one must do exactly that.

The swimming campaign, sponsored at no cost whatever to the boys, opens for the Y. M. C. A. a busy vacation schedule.

Alleged Blackmailer Is Shot To Death

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 12.—Joseph Cardinale, 56, was shot and killed on a downtown street corner late yesterday. Police are holding Thomas Belfiore, 65, a laborer, on a charge of murder.

Belfiore says Cardinale made this threat:

"You better have $10,000 ready for me tomorrow night or I'll burn up your house and you and your family with it."

Police quote the prisoner as saying that he had been receiving blackmail letters since April 1, and that the threat caused him to "lose control of myself."

Hays says the man admitted whipping out a .32 caliber revolver and firing twice. The victim was shot in the head and the hand.

Injured In Crash On Perry Highway

Car Slows Down Behind Horse;
Figures In Ac-

According to Highway Patrolman William Stoope's investigation, Clarence Hunt was riding a horse along the highway.

An auto driven by Lawrence Trainor, Fifth street, Duquesne, Pa., was in the rear of the horse.

Owing to traffic operating toward Pittsburgh he could not pull around the horse and slowed down.

The car driven by Van Kirk was behind Trainor's machine and apparently he did not notice Trainor's car slow down.

His machine struck the rear of Trainor's.

It is reported that his mother also was injured. Edward and the small boy, who was uninjured, were brought here.

OPPOSITION TO PRESIDENT'S LEGISLATIVE PLANS

Drought Relief Runs Into Snag

Senate Committee May Cut Down Amount Asked By Roosevelt

SENATE DELAYS WAGNER MEASURE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Roosevelt's legislative program for the dying congress struck a snag today when stiff opposition developed in the senate appropriations committee against his request for a $525,000,000 drought relief fund.

On top of this, the house began debate on a sharply modified housing bill while the senate dickered over the Wagner Labor Dispute bill. Both of these measures were on the president's "must" program.

The president's new silver bill meanwhile was sent back to the house, after the senate passed it by a vote of 55 to 24. It would direct the government to acquire silver until one-fourth of its monetary stocks are in silver.

The treasury would be directed to issue silver certificates against the purchased bullion and to place the certificates in circulation. It can be enacted as soon as the house approves a few minor amendments.

The drought relief dispute and controversies over the labor and housing bills somewhat dimmed hopes for an adjournment of congress Saturday. The leaders hope to complete the program by Saturday, but some members voiced their doubts.

May Cut Appropriation
The row over the drought relief appropriation may develop into a major controversy. A senate appropriations sub-committee, headed by Senator Glenn (D) of Virginia, was reported likely to reduce the appropriation. Some Democrats and Republicans charged the administration has ample funds on hand to meet this emergency and is attempting to initiate a far-reaching social program under cloak and drought relief.

Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, Secretary of Agriculture, Wallace and Chester Davis, head of the AAA, defended the huge fund at a secret session of the sub-committee. They told of plans to transfer farmers' families from the drought area, to purchase cattle for redistribution in other sections of the country and to construct wells and dams to conserve water in the future. Their explanations failed to ameliorate the opposition.

Wagner Bill Side-Track
While the house debated the housing bill, the senate considered its calendar of unobjectionable bills after Democratic spokesmen refused to call up the Hatfield-Wagner Railroad Workers Retirement act.

The Wagner labor dispute bill was side-tracked, presumably until its sponsors can agree with the president on a modified form. The president was reported as favoring a measure, simply creating a federal conciliation commission instead of the broad labor powers invoked under the original Wagner bill.

The senate eliminated one obstacle to adjournment by defeating the World War Veterans Bonus bill 31 to 51. Senator Shipstead (FL) of Minnesota, offered the measure, which passed the house weeks ago, as an amendment to the silver bill. The vote disposed of the issue for this session.

German Finance In Trouble.
Prisons In The Air.
New Way To Travel.
Mr. Baer And Mr. Carners.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

From the worldwide point of view the serious news is suspension of payments by the German Reichsbank, which means that Germany stops paying even private debts. It is not merely the usual default on international debts.

Wise Paris fears the worst, as usual in this instance, that German's financial condition is far worse than the world knows, worse than Germany realizes or cares to admit. The substantial Paris Temps says of the Reichsbank payment suspension.

It is needless to insist on the gravity of this measure. It demonstrates the desperate situation in which Germany finds itself.

Mayor La Guardia, of New York asks Washington for seventeen million to build a criminal courts skyscraper, with a prison on the upper floors. Such prisons in the air are in use in modern cities, Los Angeles and Miami, among others.

So called civilization used to put graveyards on hill tops that the dead might enjoy a fine view. Incidentally allowing disease germs to run down hill into open wells. Old prisons were in holes and dungeons underground.

The skyscraper prison is based on common sense. Skyscraper prisoners cannot get out since a drop of fifteen or more stories would be involved and lynching mobs cannot get in. Our kind civilization demands many precautions.

Big New York City's credit is fairly good, in spite of loose talk about bond interest default. German and other cities will read with em-tion that New York's Controller McGoldrick borrows millions at one per cent interest.

This is due partly to the fact that banks and financial houses are "choked with cash" and cannot lend it.

The latest gold rush is in the near Grand Forks, British Columbia. Prospectors have staked out five thousand acres of claims some of them on city golf links.

Mr. Ben Smith, of New York, who specializes in gold, and makes a fortune, says Americans should investigate gold mining possibilities in Canada and British Columbia. They might profitably investigate in Russia, also, but Russia will not let you have the gold if you find it.

Mr. Ben Smith's traveling method of show what's ailing machines can do. He recently started around the world with his family by floating steamer. On the way in Java, he thought he would like to see the Grand National steeplechase, and flew back to England, from that point, saw the race and flew back to join his family and their ship at an African port. Landing in New York, he flew to California, took another plane to British Columbia, flew back via San Francisco to New York. He thus saves months of old-fashioned "high speed travel."

Next Thursday occurs the Carnera-Baer prize fight, and there is much interest. Carnera, Italian, is well described as the "man-mountain" sometimes as the "fighting mastodon."

For box office reasons, Mr. Baer is advertised as a "Jewish heavyweight prize fighter" although not on the soundest ethnological basis. According to the New Yorker, Baer's mother was a Scotch-Irish, over six feet tall, weighing more than two hundred pounds. His father was half Jewish only. The son grew strong slaughtering and chopping up calves and sheep for his father.

If he wins, Scotchmen and Irishmen will calm the victory for the mother's fighting blood. His Jewish admirers will say that the Jewish quarter of his brain did the thinking and won the fight.

It is to be remembered, however, that if Spinoza Disraeli, the original Rothschild and Malenkov got in the ring with Carnera all at the same time, Carnera with leisurely ease could knock out all four, which proves that being a heavyweight champion does not amount to much, also, lest the ambitious young forget, it may once more be stated that if Carnera, Baer and any other two human fighters that ever lived entered a ring with a full-grown gorilla, and made the gorilla angry, the four would not last two minutes.

The gorilla, however, being a decent animal, would not fight unless provoked, and other gorillas, more respectable than humans, would not want to see the fight, much less give cocoanuts to see it.

A number of rich Americans, Mr. Horace Dodge, of Detroit, the latest, are reported to be taking their children to Europe, usually to England "where they will be safe from kidnappers."

It is a fact that children in England, France, Germany, Italy and other European countries are safe from kidnappers because such countries enforce respect for law and do not have soft, sloppy parole boards, turning out murderers "to try life again" which usually means murder again.

In Penian days, Irish landlords spent their rent money in London, impoverishing Ireland.

This government might prevent exportation of money by providing some sort of national park, guarded by United States troops protected by barbed wire entanglements in which prosperous parents could safely leave their young children.

In such sanctuaries, or oases of safety, the prosperous might be urged to "leave your children with Uncle Sam, and spend your money in America."

Justice is Pontiac, Michigan, is considering punishment for the father and mother of a boy and girl six and four years old. On a Wednesday night, according to police, the children left alone in the house were frightened and told an older girl that their parents wanted her to stay with them to protect them.

That was a falsehood, according to the parents, and they would not overlook so serious an offense. The next night, it is charged, the father went to a show and the mother to a party at a neighbor's house. Before leaving, it is alleged they tied the little boy and girl to the bed, first having "taped their mouths in gangster fashion" their lips and jaws shut tight with tape crisscrossed over their mouths.

Fathers and mothers can imagine the pitiful terror of the two children, left bound and "taped." The parents are alleged to have said it was done to punish the children for telling a lie. What would you do to such parents? And what do you think of the alleged police statement that there is "no thought of taking the children permanently from the parents."

OPPOSITION TO PRESIDENT'S LEGISLATIVE PLANS

WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Roosevelt's legislative program for the dying congress struck a snag today when stiff opposition developed in the senate appropriations committee against his request for a $525,000,000 drought relief bill.

On top of this, the house began debate on a sharply modified housing bill while the senate sidetracked the Wagner Labor Dispute bill. Both of these measures were on the president's "must" program.

The president's new silver bill meanwhile was sent back to the house, after the senate passed it by a vote of 55 to 24. The treasury would be directed to issue silver certificates against the purchased bullion and to place the certificates in circulation. It can be enacted as soon as the house approves a few minor senate amendments.

The drought relief dispute and controversies over the labor and housing bills somewhat dimmed hopes for an adjournment of congress Saturday. The leaders hope to complete the program by Saturday but some members voiced their doubts.

May Cut Appropriation
The row over the drought relief appropriation may develop into a major controversy. A senate appropriations sub-committee, headed by Senator Charles McNary (D., Oregon), reported today that it is likely to reduce the appropriation. Some Democrats and Republicans charged the administration has ample funds on hand to meet this emergency and is attempting to initiate a far-reaching social program under cloak and drought relief.

Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Chester Davis, head of the AAA, defended the huge fund at a secret session of the sub-committee. They told of plans to transfer farmers' families from the drought area, to purchase cattle for redistribution in other sections of the country, and to construct wells and dams to conserve water in the future. Their explanations failed to ameliorate the opposition.

Wagner Bill Side-Track
While the house debated the housing bill the senate considered its calendar of unobjectioned bills after Democratic spokesmen refused to call up the Hatfield-Wagner Railroad Workers' Retirement act.

The Wagner labor dispute bill was side-tracked, presumably until its sponsors can agree with the president on a modified form. The president was reported as favoring a measure, simply creating federal conciliation commissions instead of the broad labor powers invoked under the original Wagner bill.

The senate eliminated one obstacle to adjournment by defeating the World War Veterans Bonus bill 31 to 51. Senator Shipstead (D., Minnesota), offered the measure, which passed the house weeks ago, as an amendment to the silver bill. The vote disposed of the issue for this session.

Big New York City's credit is fairly good, in spite of loose talk about bond interest default. German and other cities will read with emotion that New York's Controller McGoldrick borrows millions at one per cent interest.

This is due partly to the fact that banks and financial houses are "choked with cash" and cannot lend it.

The latest gold rush is in the near Grand Forks, British Columbia, prospectors have staked out five thousand acres of claims some of them on city golf links.

Mr. Ben Smith, of New York, who specializes in gold, and makes it pay, says Americans should investigate gold mining possibilities in Canada and British Columbia. They might profitably investigate in Russia, also, but Russia will not let you have the gold if you find it.

Mr. Ben Smith's traveling method show what flying machines can do. He recently started around the world with his family by floating steamer. On the way in Java, he thought he would like to see the Grand National steeplechase, and flew back to England, from that point, saw the race and flew back to join his family and their ship at an African port. Landing in New York, he flew to California, took another plane to British Columbia, flew back via San Francisco to New York. He thus saves months of old-fashioned "high speed travel."

Next Thursday occurs the Carnera-Baer prize fight, and there is much interest. Carnera, Italian, is well described as the "man-mountain" sometimes as the "fighting mastodon."

For box office reasons, Mr. Baer is advertised as a "Jewish heavyweight prize fighter" although not on the soundest ethnological basis. According to the New Yorker, Baer's mother was a Scotch-Irish, over six feet tall, weighing more than two hundred pounds. His father was half Jewish only. The son grew strong slaughtering and chopping up calves and sheep for his father.

If he wins, Scotchmen and Irishmen will calm the victory for the mother's fighting blood. His Jewish admirers will say the Jewish quarter of his brain did the thinking and won the fight.

It is to be remembered, however, that if Spinoza Disraeli, the original Rothschild and Malonides got in the ring with Carnera all at the same time, Carnera with leisurely ease could knock out all four, which proves that being heavyweight champion does not amount to much, also, lest the ambitious young forget, it may once more be stated that if Carnera, Baer and any other two human fighters that ever lived entered a ring with a full-grown gorilla, and made the gorilla angry the four would not last two minutes.

The gorilla, however, being a decent animal, would not fight unless offended, and other gorillas, more respectable than humans, would not want to see the fight, much less give cocoanuts to see it.

A number of rich Americans, Mr. Horace Dodge, of Detroit, the latest, are reported to be taking their children to Europe, usually to England "where they will be safe from kidnappers."

It is a fact that children in England, France, Germany, Italy and other European countries are safe from kidnappers because such countries enforce respect for law and do not have soft, sloppy parole boards, turning out murderers "to try life again" which usually means murder again.

In Fenian days, Irish landlords spent their rent monies in London, impoverishing Ireland.

This government might prevent exportation of money by providing some sort of national park, guarded by United States troops protected by barbed wire entanglements in which prosperous parents could safely leave their young children.

In such sanctuaries, or oases of safety, the prosperous might be urged to "leave your children with Uncle Sam, and spend your money in America."

Justice is Pontiac, Michigan, is considering punishment for the father and mother of a boy and girl six and four years old. On a Wednesday night, according to police, the children left alone in the house were frightened and told an older girl that their parents wanted her to stay with them to protect them.

That was a falsehood, according to the parents, and they would not overlook so serious an offense. The next night, it is charged the father went to a show and the mother to a party at a neighbor's house. Before leaving, it is alleged they tied the little boy and girl to the bed, first having "taped their mouths in gangster fashion" their lips and jaws shut tight with tape crisscrossed over their mouths.

Fathers and mothers can imagine the pitiful terror of the two children, left bound and "taped." The parents are alleged to have said it was done to punish the children for telling a lie. What would you do to such parents? And what do you think of the alleged police statement that there is "no thought of taking the children permanently from the parents."

OPPOSITION TO PRESIDENT'S LEGISLATIVE PLANS

Drought Relief Runs Into Snag

Senate Committee May Cut Down Amount Asked By Roosevelt

SENATE DELAYS WAGNER MEASURE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Roosevelt's legislative program for the dying congress struck a snag today when stiff opposition developed in the senate appropriations committee against his request for a $325,000,000 drought relief fund.

On top of this, the house began debate on a sharply modified housing bill while the senate sidetracked the Wagner Labor Dispute bill. Both of these measures were on the president's "must" program.

The president's new silver bill meanwhile was sent back to the house, after the senate passed it by a vote of 55 to 24. It would direct the government to acquire silver until one-fourth of its monetary stocks are in silver. The treasury would be directed to issue silver certificates against the purchased bullion and to place the certificates in circulation. It can be enacted as soon as the house approves a few minor senate amendments.

The drought relief dispute and controversies over the labor and housing bills somewhat dimmed hopes for an adjournment of congress Saturday. The leaders hope to complete the program by Saturday but some members voiced their doubts.

May Cut Appropriation

The row over the drought relief appropriation may develop into a major controversy. A senate appropriations sub-committee, headed by Senator Glass (D) of Virginia, was reported likely to reduce the appropriation. Some Democrats and Republicans charged the administration has ample funds on hand to meet this emergency and is attempting to initiate a far-reaching social program under cloak and drought relief.

Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, Secretary of Agriculture, Wallace and Chester Davis, head of the AAA, defended the huge fund at a secret session of the sub-committee. They told of plans to transfer farmers' families from the drought area, to purchase cattle for redistribution in other sections of the country, and to construct wells and dams to conserve water in the future. Their explanations failed to ameliorate the opposition.

Wagner Bill Side-Tracked

While the house debated the housing bill the senate considered its calendar of unobjectionable bills after Democratic spokesmen refused to call up the Hatfield-Wagner Railroad Workers' Retirement act.

The Wagner labor dispute bill was side-tracked, presumably until its sponsors can agree with the president on a modified form. The president was reported as favoring a measure, simply creating federal conciliation commissions instead of the broad labor powers invoked under the original Wagner bill.

The senate eliminated one obstacle to adjournment by defeating the World War Veterans Bonus bill 31 to 51. Senator Shipstead (R) of Minnesota, offered the measure, which passed the house weeks ago, as an amendment to the silver bill. The vote disposed of the issue for this session.

German Finance In Trouble.
Prisons In The Air.
New Way To Travel.
Mr. Baer And Mr. Carnera.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

From the worldwide point of view the serious news is suspension of payments by the German Reichsbank, which means that Germany stops paying even private debts. It is not merely the usual default on international debts.

Wise Paris "ears the worst" as usual in this instance that Germany's financial condition is far worse than the world knows, worse than Germany realizes or cares to admit. The substantial Paris Temps says of the Reichsbank payment suspension.

"It is needless to insist on the gravity of this measure. It demonstrates the desperate situation in which Germany finds itself."

Mayor La Guardia, of New York asks Washington for seventeen million to build a criminal courts skyscraper, with a prison on the upper floors. Such prisons in the air are in use in modern cities, Los Angeles and Miami, among others.

So called civilization used to put graveyards on hill tops that the dead might enjoy a fine view, incidentally allowing disease germs to run down hill into open wells. Old prisons were in holes and dungeons underground.

The skyscraper prison is based on common sense. Skyscraper prisoners cannot get out since a drop of fifteen or more stories would be involved and lynching mobs cannot get in. Our kind civilization demands many precautions.

Big New York City credit is fairly good, in spite of loose talk about bond interest default. German and other cities will read with emotion that New York's Controller McGoldrick borrows millions at one per cent interest.

One of the activities planned by the young people of Ellwood District in connection with the 96th convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath school association, which will be held at the First Presbyterian church, Ellwood City, Thursday June 14th morning, afternoon and evening sessions, is a flag raising exercise at the beginning of the convention, using both the Christian and American flags. The flags will be up during the day, and lowered at the evening vespers service.

The entertainment committee of Ellwood City and District has made ample provision for the delegates who will attend from the various Sabbath schools of the county on Thursday, and nothing has been overlooked which will tend to make the stay at the convention pleasant and spiritually profitable.

The noon luncheon is being served at the convention church, and the evening Christian Fellowship Supper at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Ellwood City. Reservations have been made for these meals, but arrangements have also been made to take care of those who attend, even though they have not sent in their reservations.

THEY LIKE MILK—Primo Carnera and Max Baer each enjoys a bottle of milk as they complete training for title bout.

Baer-Carnera Not Friendly

No Love Interest Between Aspirants In Heavyweight Battle Set For Thursday

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Writer
NEW YORK, June 12—Max Baer and Primo Carnera offer a study in contrasts—like Mae West and the skinny girl in the circus. Max is everything that Primo is not and a lot that Primo wouldn't want to be.

Max ridicules and dislikes Primo. Primo despises and hates Max. Despite their mutual distaste for each other and the things each stands for, they share two or three things in common. Both are flatter than a starched shirt financially; both are in debt, both like the ladies and both have been sued by the too smart sex.

Each has his counterpart among the insects. Max is the gilded butterfly; Primo is the busy bee.

Valentine Of Ring
Max is the Valentino of the ring; Primo looks like a grinning gargoyle on an old cathedral.

Life to Max is just a laugh; to Primo it's a frown.
Max himself supplies many a laugh for himself and others as he clown his way through life. For instance, there was that time when he explained how he happened to have so many managers. Max paraded out "pieces" of himself until he had given away about 125 per cent of his future earnings. A proceeding that is still finding echoes in the courts. Max was long on generosity but short on mathematics. "Sure," he handed out a bit here and a bit there, said Max. "I knew I was giving away about 125 percent but I thought I still had 875 percent left for myself." It was just at this point that the mathematician among his listeners fell over in a dead faint.

Baer-Carnera Not Friendly

No Love Interest Between Aspirants In Heavyweight Battle Set For Thursday

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Writer
NEW YORK, June 12—Max Baer and Primo Carnera offer a study in contrasts—like Mae West and the skinny gal in the circus. Max is everything that Primo is not and a lot that Primo wouldn't want to be.

Max ridicules and dislikes Primo. Primo despises and hates Max.

Despite their mutual distaste for each other and the things each stands for—they share two or three things in common. Both are flatter than a starched shirt financially; both are in debt, both like the ladies and both have been sued by the too smart sex.

Each has his counterpart among the insects. Max is the gilded butterfly; Primo is the busy bee.

Valentino Of Ring

Max is the Valentino of the ring. Primo looks like a grinning gargoye on an old cathedral.

Life to Max is just a laugh; to Primo it's a frown.

Max himself supplies many a laugh for himself and others as he clownes his way through life. For instance, there was that time when he explained how he happened to have so many managers. Max parceled out "pieces" of himself until he had given away about 125 per cent of his future earnings. A proceeding that is still finding echoes in the courts.

Max was long on generosity but short on mathematics. "Sure," he handed out a bit here and a bit there, said Max. "I knew I was giving away about 125 percent but I thought I still had 875 percent left for myself." It was just at this point that the mathematician among his listeners fell over in a dead faint.

GAME IS CHANGED

The scheduled Colonial A. C. and New Castle Merchants game at the Lehigh Field for Wednesday night, has been changed to Thursday night, according to an announcement by "Hank" Stanley today. The New Castle Merchants will also play at the Lehigh Field Friday and Saturday of this week.

THEY LIKE MILK—Primo Carnera and Max Baer each enjoys a bottle of milk as they complete training for title bout.

Baer-Carnera Not Friendly

No Love Interest Between Aspirants In Heavyweight Battle Set For Thursday

By PAUL ROBINSON
International News Service
NEW YORK, June 12—Max Baer and Primo Carnera offer a study in contrasts—like Mae West and the skinny gal in the circus. Max is everything that Primo is not and a lot that Primo wouldn't want to be.

Max ridicules and dislikes Primo. Primo despises and hates Max. Despite their mutual distaste for each other and the things each stands for—they share two or three things in common. Both are flatterers, a starved shirt financially; both are in debt, both like the ladies and both have been sued by the too smart sex.

Each has his counterpart among the insects. Max is the gilded butterfly; Primo is the busy bee.

Valentino Of Ring
Max is the Valentino of the ring. Primo looks like a grinning gargoyle on an old cathedral. Life to Max is just a laugh; to Primo it's a frown. Max himself supplies many a laugh for himself and others as he clown his way through life. For instance, there was that time when he explained how he happened to have so many managers. Max proceeded that still finding echoes in the courts. Max was long on generosity but short on mathematics. "Sure," he handed out a bit here and a bit there, "I said 'I knew I was giving away about 125 percent but I thought I still had 875 percent left for myself.' It was just at this point that the mathematician among his listeners fell over in a dead faint.

Accessories, Tires, Parts

FRANK (Fleetwing) Dewberry who sells gas and tires at 123 West Wash. St. told you Monday about camping out, near Fayette. Well, folks, the fun started a little earlier than usual this season. One of the boys caught a frog and another a garter snake and they slipped them into their parents' bed just after sun-down last night. These two little Dewberries are nice little kids and we love them and adore them but boy do they like to be a few days before these little fellows sit down to eat and it will be a long long time until they go to the store and get again. Now don't care for frogs and snakes, isn't lovely fond of snakes, especially in bed. 11-5

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 12.—The stock market turned into a dull and somewhat reactionary affair today with further pressure evident on the rail, motor and steel shares.

The commodity markets also were reactionary in light trading. Wheat and other grains suffered losses running to about 1/2 cent a bushel while cotton declined about 25 cents a bale.

Motor stocks continued somewhat unsettled by the Auburn dividend omission which came as a surprise yesterday. Auburn itself was quite steady today holding around its previous close. General Motors and Chrysler, however, were inclined to meet with some further offerings.

United States Steel, Bethlehem and other steel shares also were easier and fractionally lower. Steel shares were dull despite the passage of the silver purchase bill by the senate last night.

Copper shares were quiet and steady being buoyed up by the reports of a general price advance and steady demand for the metal.

Railroad shares ran into some profit taking with Atchafon, New York Central and others suffering losses running to a point. Utilities were quiet and steady.

All Kiwanis Day
At Country Club
All Day Monday173 Kiwanians Participate
In Annual Event At Ellwood City Country ClubCARRY OUT FINE
PROGRAM FOR DAY

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Ellwood City Kiwanians proved to be capable and pleasing hosts on Monday when they entertained 173 guests from other lodges at their annual All-Kiwanis day program at the Ellwood City Country Club.

An elaborate program had been prepared for the occasion. Clubs of the middle west district of Pennsylvania met at Ellwood City. This event marked the opening of the international convention at Toronto, Canada.

The day was started off with the regular golf tournament in the afternoon for the men. A reception and bridge was held for the women at the club house. In the evening a delicious dinner was served at 6:30 and at its close Homer Sweeney of Beaver Falls, former district official, read the international president's speech.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. J. V. Pender, D. D. of St. Petersburg, Fla. He gave a psychological talk on "What's the Matter With Mother?"

Entertainment features included a vocal solo by Mrs. Frank Huffman of this city and pep singing of Kiwanis songs. The climax of the dinner meeting was the awarding of the golf prizes. Dancing and cards were then enjoyed until midnight.

The affair was a complete success in every detail and reflects upon the time, effort and ability of Dr. H. S. Gold, president of the local club, who was general chairman of the affair; C. H. Smith, chairman of the golf committee; Mrs. C. H. Smith, the reception and bridge committee; and Joe Smith, the music committee.

Guests were present from Pittsburgh, Washington, Ambridge, Coraopolis, Sewickley, Rochester, New Castle and Beaver Falls.

A tomato club was organized at this time and a boy was given 100 tomato plants. At various times during the summer judges will visit each garden and in the fall a general round-up and exhibition will be held.

Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, E. S. T., members of the Girls' club will meet at the home of Misses Hazel and Margaret Walker, New Castle road.

Legumin is a vegetable protein of the globulin group, found mainly in the seeds of many plants.

Two tables or bridge were enjoyed amidst the pleasant surroundings of summer flowers. Miss Betty Nickum was the winner of the high score award at the close of the games.

An appetizing luncheon was served by the hostess at a later hour. Miss Nickum will entertain the club in two weeks.

Gottuso-Latiano
Marriage Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday morning when Miss Roslyn Gottuso, daughter of Mrs. Grace Gottuso of Crescent avenue, became the bride of William Latiano, son of Mrs. Mary Latiano of Crescent avenue. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock in the Italian E. V. M. church with Rev. Fr. Vincent Gallardo, as officiant.

Preceding the ceremony the young men's choir of the church sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride was charmingly gowned in white satin fashioned with a long train and she wore a veil caught with clusters of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of calla lilies and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Miss Helen Gottuso, was maid of honor and Misses Mary Ann Pozzuto and Ann Barberio were bridesmaids and they wore pastel shades and carried roses.

Tony Latiano was best man and Al DiMark and Edward Latiano were ushers.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner and reception was held at the bride's home and a number of relatives and friends at the Gottuso home. Coffers were laid off at the beautifully appointed tables.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Latiano are affiliated with the National Tube company, and after June 15 they will be at home at 522 Wayne avenue.

Mrs. Howard Wilson

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Mrs. Howard Wilson delightfully entertained the members of the Monday Evening Bridge club last night at her home on Fourth street.

Bridge was the principal pastime of the evening with three tables in play. Mrs. Carrie Aiken was presented with the high score award at the conclusion of the games. At an appointed hour the hostess served an appetizing luncheon, much to the pleasure of those present.

The club will meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Erie Yahn on Spring avenue.

Auto Accident
Is Fatal For
Robert Bayers

One Of Injured Youths Succumbs To Internal Injuries Monday Night

HARPER'S CONDITION
STILL GRAVE TODAY

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Robert Bayers, young Ellwood high school boy, and one of three local youths who figured in a serious automobile accident early Monday morning near Portersville, succumbed to internal injuries at the Ellwood City Hospital at 7:30 Monday evening. He was 17 years of age.

Clyde Harper, driver of the fatal car, is still in a semi-conscious condition. He had been delirious through most of the day Monday. His condition is considered grave by physicians. A third youth, Lee Shirey, escaped with minor injuries and was discharged from the hospital yesterday morning.

The car in which the three were riding overturned while rounding a curve on a Pinchot road leading onto the Portersville Highway. The three had been returning home from Grove City. All were injured out of the automobile.

X-ray pictures were to be taken yesterday morning to fully determine their injuries, but the condition of Bayers and Harper would not permit them to be moved. Both were strongly suspected of having internal injuries.

An operation had been ordered for Bayers for Monday evening, but he expired before it was performed. The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bayers, Sr., and one brother, William, Jr., all at home on Pershing street.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. from the late residence, with the Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the local First Presbyterian church, officiating. He will be assisted by Dr. Charles Z. Bell, also of this city. Interment will be made in the Oak Park Cemetery in New Castle.

Shelby Socials Down Koppel In Beaver County League Game Here Monday

LEFTY MILLER HAS
21 STRIKEOUTS

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Shelby Socials of Ellwood City are very near to the top of the Beaver County Baseball league, once again by virtue of their 6-2 victory over Koppel at Ewing park field on Monday evening.

Undoubtedly one of the greatest pitching feats to have ever occurred in this vicinity was performed by "Lefty" Miller of the Ellwood team. He spelled Koppel's doom, who were only able to hit Miller's ball a total of six times for the game. Four of these were hits. This means that only four men out of 27 who faced Miller, ever reached first base. Two men flied out and the remaining 21 struck out.

Koppel held a 2-1 lead in the third inning. Inspired by Miller's pitching the locals hit their stride in the fifth and sixth to bring in three and two runs respectively while holding their opponents scoreless. Ellwood had seven hits from Poholsky.

PROGRAM FOR DAY

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Ellwood City Kiwanians proved to be capable and pleasing hosts on Monday when they entertained 173 guests from other lodges at their annual All-Kiwanis day program at the Ellwood City Country club.

In the evening a delicious dinner was served at 6:30 and at its close Homer Sweeney of Beaver Falls, former district official, read the international president's speech.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. J. V. Pender, D. D. of St. Petersburg, Fla. He gave a psychological talk on "What's the Matter With Matter?"

Entertainment features included a vocal solo by Mrs. Frank Huffman of this city and pep singing of Kiwanis songs.

The climax of the evening was the awarding of the golf prizes. Dancing and cards were then enjoyed until midnight.

The affair was a complete success in every detail and reflects upon the time, effort and ability of Dr. H. S. Gold, president of the local club, who was general chairman of the affair; C. H. One Of Injured Youths Succumbs To Internal Injuries Monday Night

STILL GRAVE TODAY

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Robert Bayers, young Ellwood high school boy, and one of three local youths who figured in a serious automobile accident early Monday morning near Portersville, succumbed to internal injuries at the Ellwood City Hospital at 7:30 Monday evening. He was 17 years of age.

Clyde Harper, driver of the fatal car, is still in a semi-conscious condition. He had been delirious through most of the day Monday.

His condition is considered grave by physicians. A third youth, Lee Shirey, escaped with minor injuries and was discharged from the hospital yesterday morning.

The car in which the three were riding overturned while rounding a curve on a Pinchot road leading into the Portersville Highway. The three had been returning home from Grove City. All were hurled out of the automobile.

X-Ray pictures were to be taken yesterday morning to fully determine their injuries, but the condition of Bayers and Harper would not permit them to be moved. Both were strongly suspected of having internal injuries.

An operation had been ordered for Bayers for Monday evening, but he expired before it was performed.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bayers, Sr., and one brother, William, Jr., all at home on Pershing street. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 D. S. T. from the late residence with the Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the local First Presbyterian church, officiating. He will be assisted by Dr. Charles Z. Bell, also of this city. Interment will be made in the Oak Park Cemetery in New Castle.

Shelby Socials Down Koppel In Beaver County League Game Here Monday

LEFTY MILLER HAS
21 STRIKEOUTS

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Shelby Socials of Ellwood City are very near to the top of the Beaver County Baseball league, once again by virtue of their 6-2 victory over Koppel at Ewing park field on Monday evening.

Undoubtedly one of the greatest pitching feats to have ever occurred in this vicinity was performed by "Lefty" Miller of the Ellwood team. It spelled Koppel's doom, who were only able to hit Miller's ball a total of six times for the game. Four of these were hits. This means that only four men out of 27 who faced Miller, ever reached first base. Two men flied out and the remaining 21 struck out.

Koppel held a 2-1 lead in the third inning. Inspired by Miller's pitching the locals hit their stride in the fifth and sixth to bring in three and two runs respectively, while holding their opponents scoreless. Ellwood had seven hits from Poholsky.

YOUR GROCER HAS THIS SUNNY WAY TO BETTER HEALTH

Check Common Constipation with a Delicious Cereal

Food has a lot to do with how you feel and how you look. For instance, you need plenty of "bulk" with your meals to avoid the risk of common constipation.

This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. Laboratory tests show the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is safe and effective. In fact, it is much like that found in leafy vegetables.

Within the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

In addition, ALL-BRAN provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Stock Market
Is Dull Today

Motor Stocks Continue Unsettled; Trading Is Light

STEEL STOCKS
MUCH EASIER(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 12.—The stock market turned into a dull and somewhat reactionary affair today with further pressure evident on the rail, motor and steel shares.

The commodity markets also were reactionary in light trading. Wheat and other grains suffered losses running to about 1/2 cent a bushel while cotton declined about 25 cents a bale.

Motor stocks continued somewhat unsettled by the Auburn dividend omission which came as a surprise yesterday. Auburn itself was quiet today, holding around its previous close. General Motors and Chrysler, however, were inclined to meet with some further offerings.

United States Steel, Bethlehem and other steel shares also were easier and fractionally lower. Silver shares were dull despite the passage of the silver purchase bill by the senate last night.

Copper shares were quiet and steady being buoyed up by the reports of a general price advance and steady demand for the metal.

Railroad shares ran into some profit taking with Atchafon, New York Central and others suffering losses running to a point. Utilities were quiet and steady.

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Ellwood City Kiwanians proved to be capable and pleasing hosts on Monday when they entertained 173 guests from other lodges at their annual All-Kiwanis day program at the Ellwood City Country Club.

An elaborate program had been prepared for the occasion. Clubs of the middle west district of Pennsylvania met at Ellwood City. This event marked the opening of the international convention at Toronto, Canada.

The day was started off with the regular golf tournament in the afternoon for the men. A reception and bridge was held for the women at the club house. In the evening a delicious dinner was served at 6:30 and at its close Homer Sweeney of Beaver Falls, former district official, read the international president's speech.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. J. V. Pender, D. D. of St. Petersburg, Fla. He gave a psychological talk on "What's the Matter With Matter?"

Entertainment features included a vocal solo by Mrs. Frank Huffman of this city and pep singing of Kiwanis songs. The climax of the dinner meeting was the awarding of the golf prizes. Dancing and cards were then enjoyed until midnight.

The affair was a complete success in every detail and reflects upon the time, effort and ability of Dr. H. S. Gold, president of the local club, who was general chairman of the affair; C. H. Smith, chairman of the golf committee; Mrs. C. H. Smith, the reception and bridge committee; and Joe Smith, the music committee.

Guests were present from Pittsburgh, Washington, Ambrose, Corapolis, Sewickley, Rochester, New Castle and Beaver Falls.

Auto Accident
Is Fatal For
Robert Bayers

One Of Injured Youtas Succumbs To Internal Injuries Monday Night

HARPER'S CONDITION
STILL GRAVE TODAY

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Robert Bayers, young Ellwood high school boy, and one of three local youths who figured in a serious automobile accident early Monday morning near Portersville, succumbed to internal injuries at the Ellwood City Hospital at 7:30 Monday evening. He was 17 years of age.

Clyde Harper, driver of the fatal car, is still in a semi-conscious condition. He has been delirious through most of the day Monday. His condition is considered grave by physicians. A third youth, Lee Shirey, escaped with minor injuries and was discharged from the hospital yesterday morning.

The car in which the three were riding overturned while rounding a curve on a Pinchot road leading onto the Portersville Highway. The three had been returning home from Grove City. All were hurled out of the automobile.

X-Ray pictures were taken yesterday morning to fully determine their injuries, but the condition of Bayers and Harper would not permit them to be moved. Both were strongly suspected of having internal injuries.

An operation had been ordered for Bayers for Monday evening, but he expired before it was performed. The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bayers, Sr., and one brother, William, Jr., all at home on Pershing street.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. from the late residence with the Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the local First Presbyterian church, officiating. He will be assisted by Dr. Charles Z. Bell, also of this city. Interment will be made in the Oak Park Cemetery in New Castle.

League Top Again

Shelby Socials Down Koppel In Beaver County League Game Here Monday

LEFTY MILLER HAS
21 STRIKEOUTS

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Shelby Socials of Ellwood City are very near to the top of the Beaver County Baseball league, once again by virtue of their 6-2 victory over Koppel at Ewing park field on Monday evening.

Undoubtedly one of the greatest pitching feats to have ever occurred in this vicinity was performed by "Lefty" Miller of the Ellwood team. It spelled Koppel's doom, who were only able to hit Miller's ball a total of six times for the game. Four of these were hits. This means that only four men out of 27 who faced Miller, ever reached first base. Two men flied out and the remaining 21 struck out.

Koppel held a 2-1 lead in the third inning. Inspired by Miller's pitching the locals hit their strike in the fifth and sixth to bring in three and two runs respectively, while holding their opponents scoreless. Ellwood had seven hits from Poholsky.

YOUR GROCER HAS THIS SUNNY WAY TO BETTER HEALTH

Check Common Constipation with a Delicious Cereal

Food has a lot to do with how you feel and how you look. For instance, you need plenty of "bulk" with your meals to avoid the risk of common constipation.

This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. Laboratory tests show the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is safe and effective. In fact, it is much like that found in leafy vegetables.

Within the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

In addition, ALL-BRAN provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonsfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, which contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
